KALTENBAUGH TO GET COUNSEL

BIG CRUISER BILL BATTLE FOLLOWS KELLOGG PACT APPROVAL

HOPES PEACE PACT IS SAFE FOR FARM AID AND DRY LAW

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Borah and Kellogg wanted peace without explanation. Jim Reed and Moses (imagine these two wanting same thing) they wanted peace including explanation.

They all compromised with the following footnote to Europe:

"We had the treaty explained (but don't let that mislead you). We learned no more from the explanations that we did from the treaty. So, we hereby sign blind, in order to hurry on with the cruiser bill and trust and pray that there is nothing in the treaty that interferes with the Monroe Doctrine, farm relief, prohibition or birth control."

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Rather a flareback was handed to this locality by the weatherman last night. Instead of moderating weather as forecasted it was about seven or eight below zero again this morning, and the feel of the air was quite snappy.

New Castle youngsters were certainly taking advantage of the heavy snow last night. Most every hill in the city that afforded any chance for coasting was being used by the youngsters.

Today the snow on the country roads has been reduced to a minimum by the state highway scrapers. There is a hard skim on in most places but in some spots the snow has completely disappeared.

From reports dropping into The News editorial from various places in the county, the temperatures were down nearly as low this morning as on Monday.

Things are getting in shape for the Boy Scout school here in the county. The classes will start the latter part of this month and indications are that there will be quite a number enrolled. The course takes five years to complete and includes every subject imaginable. Just like goin' through high school or sumpn.

The state products show starts next week down at Harrisburg and several Lawrence county farmers are getting their wares hepped for the performance. It is not known who all will take exhibits.

Monday and Tuesday evenings have been gala in the life of the youth of the country. Sled riding has been in vogue and out in the country some of the longer hills are being appreciated. Most of the sleds however have rusty runners from lack of usage.

Which reminds Pa Newc that he has not seen a sleigh since the coming of the snow or even a bob sled of any kind drawn by the good old fashioned horse. There are still some sleighs and sleds reposing in overheads of some farm barns but they are getting few and far between.

Pa Newc, in speaking of snow, sleds and sleighs, knows a farmer who purchased a fine sled for about sixty simeoleans some years ago when snow was a winter sport here. He used the sled once. It is worth stove wood now, though it is good as new.

The kiddies who are still out in some of the county's few little country schools must be having a fine time of it. In Pa Newc's experience, the teachers and all crowded about the big stove in the center of the room, and classes went on with faces burning and backs freezing.

The Christmas ties are disappearing and the men folk with the loud and extra loud neck pieces have quieted down some what. About the first of the year every man of every age sported a tie that would knock out your eye at the first shot.

A concert pianist's life is not all the beer and skittles that people seem to think it is. For instance, Senor Jose Echaniz, who was here Tuesday evening, left at noon today for Canton, Ohio. From Canton he jumps back to Jamestown, New York, and from there, even Senor Schaniz does not know where he goes. But, on consulting his list, he finds that he has 20 stops to make in four weeks.

Ratify Kellogg Treaty; Take Up New Cruiser Bill

Naval Bill Facing More Difficult Path Than Kellogg Treaty

VOTE ON TREATY IS 85 TO 1 IN SENATE

Naval Bill Has Good Support But May Be Filibustered To Death

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—With the United States pledged to renounce war and settle all future disputes pacifically, the Senate today turned to the administration's plan for increasing the strength of the American navy.

"Treaty or no treaty, America's navy must be prepared for war," was in effect the slogan adopted by the administration leaders who just finished securing ratification of the Kellogg-Briand multi-lateral anti-war compact. The naval bill would authorize the construction of 15 new fast cruisers and a gigantic aircraft carrier, the largest increase of the naval establishment proposed since the Harding disarmament conference.

Proponents of the bill declared the new warships would not place America on the 5-5-3 naval ratio with Great Britain, but would merely enable the navy to replace some worn-out obsolete cruisers which would be of little use in event of war. The opposition, however, will fight the proposed increase on the ground that it means launching the United States on a naval race with Great Britain and Japan.

Faces Opposition

The naval bill will face a much more difficult path to enactment

Brick Shatters Large Windows

Big Plate Glass Windows At Snyder Store Broken In Mysterious Manner

NOTHING TAKEN OUT OF WINDOW

Shortly after midnight Tuesday night some unknown person, for a reason unknown, threw a brick thru the Sycamore way plate glass window at the Snyder Piano company store in the Greer building, North Mercer street, which not only shattered that window but sped across the window and shattered the large plate glass window on the entrance to the store.

The crash was quite loud as the brick crashed through the two heavy plate glass windows and was heard for some distance. The actual crash was around 12:20 a. m. Olcer Allgier was on the job and had reported it to the police station within the next five minutes.

Jack Gerson, a tenant in the Greer building, heard the crash, but thought it was two automobiles coming together and did not investigate at the time. Others in the building and vicinity heard the crash.

Officers M. J. Young and Dukes answered the call. The owner was called. Nothing was missing.

A recheck this morning showed that although the window was filled with valuable saxophones, guitars and other small instruments, that none had been taken. The store had not been entered, and no money or anything else of value had been taken.

From the investigation of the officers first on the case and also Detective John Young, who checked up this morning, the person who threw the brick evidently stood across Sycamore way from the store and hurled the brick with the greatest possible force.

The possibility is also suggested that a passing automobile, of a larger type, might have passed over the brick, lying in the icy street, and sent it with great force through the windows.

The brick was found in the entrance lobby of the store. It was at first though that it was a brick from the ruins of the Frist U. P. church, but closer examination this morning developed the fact that it had been a brick used for street paving purposes.

The loss caused by the breaking of the windows will be considerable but is covered by insurance.

Issues County License For Dog 23 Years Old

County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley has just licensed what she believes to be the oldest dog in Lawrence county, if not in the state of Pennsylvania.

A license has been issued for the English poodle of John Martin of Neshannock township, the age of the dog being 23 years. While there are several 15 and 16-year-old dogs listed, this is the only one over 20 years.

The average dog's age is 14 years, just as the average life of a man is said to be 70 years. If these figures are true, then a dog's average expectancy is about one-fifth that of a man. This would make Mr. Martin's dog the equivalent of 115 years in the human span.

Because of its unusual age, the dog is blind but still gets around. Mr. Martin values it highly and hopes to be able to buy licenses for it for a number of years yet.

Babe Ruth Will Fight For Right To Keep Daughter

"We Will Expose Babe Ruth", Members Of Family Of Late Wife Declare

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—Promising a "red hot exposure" of George Herman "Babe" Ruth after the funeral of his wife, members of Mrs. Ruth's family today prepared to battle in the courts with the "home run king" for the possession of sweet, little Dorothy Ruth.

"Never. I'll stand for almost anything but that. You can never have Dorothy—that much I'll tell you right now." This was what the grief-stricken baseball player was quoted as telling his sister-in-law, Mrs. Joanna McCarthy.

Court Petitions.

Petitions to the courts were prepared, asking for the custody of the eight-year-old girl that Ruth has claimed was his own child but whom others claim was adopted in Brooklyn, N. Y., Ruth's friends predicted that he would reach an amicable understanding regarding the future of Dorothy.

Meanwhile, the innocent little child played on the snow-covered slope on the grounds of the Academy of the Assumption at Wellesley Hills, cheeks rosy and eyes twinkling. And by a strange twist of fate her companion at play was Alice Harvey, six-year-old daughter of the late sister of Dr. Edward H. Kinder, in whose burning Watertown home Mrs. Ruth lost her life.

Several Reports Of Twenty Below

Temperature. Reports. In County Vary Widely For Early This Morning

EAST BROOK SAYS TWENTY BELOW ZERO

Old King Winter clutched the county this morning in a vise like grip which strengthened or lessened as he moved about the various parts of the entire district throughout the night and early morning. The East Brook district at 5:30 o'clock this morning registered 20 degrees below zero.

This East Brook report apparently indicates that it was colder there this morning and Tuesday night than at any other part of the county. Reports of 16 degrees below came from the New Castle Water Co. pump station northwest of the city and from Pulaski and Mt. Jackson.

According to the various reports which have come into The News office today from every section of the city and county, there was considerable difference in the temperature degrees prevalent.

Three Below on Hill.

A north hill resident reported that it was three below zero at 8 o'clock this morning. Others report several degrees below zero but the majority of the statements indicate that it hovered above zero throughout the city in the region of 8 a. m. today.

B. F. Johnson of the New Castle Water Co. pump station northwest of the Grant street bridge reported this morning that it was 16 degrees below zero at the station at 8 a. m. today

Liner Majestic Nearly Swamped In Mid-Atlantic

Monstrous Wave Pours Over White Star Liner Majestic; Passengers Panicky

ONE SAILOR DEAD; HAS NECK BROKEN

Stirring Scenes Enacted In Mid-Ocean As Wave Strikes; Cabins Flooded

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Panic-stricken women and children trapped in flooded cabins, members of the crew swimming for their lives in their quarters, one man killed, steel doors and hatch covers twisted as though they were matches.

These scenes, recalling the Vestris disaster, were revealed today as the giant White Star Majestic limped into port twelve hours late.

They occurred Monday afternoon in mid-Atlantic when a monstrous wave, rearing high above the largest British steamship, fell on her, sending thousands and thousands of tons of water over her decks and into the third class and crews quarters.

The pumps were still working today when the Majestic docked with her 1,171 passengers and crew of 1,199. There were 1,200 members of the crew when she sailed from Southampton on January 9, but one perished as the giant wave struck.

He was Leonardo Fioroni, third class cook.

The rushing water swept him against a steel door, breaking his neck.

The wave struck about 3:40 p. m. at the time most of the forty-six children in the third class were taking naps with their mothers sitting in the state rooms with them. There were ninety six women and 148 men in third class.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Chinese steamer Hsin Wah, with 400 passengers and crew aboard, foundered in heavy seas off Hong Kong, according to a Central News dispatch from that port today.

It is feared that only 20 of those on board were saved. Tugs are now scouring the scene of the disaster for survivors.

The Hsin Wah was a steamer of 1,940 tons.

Jaworski Will Die Monday In Electric Chair

Pardon Board Fails To Grant Arch-Killer Insanity Trial In Latest Plea

Not Believed Any Further Appeal For Slayer Will Save Him From Execution

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—Concerned only because he will be unable to finish a serial story in one of the magazines, because it is continued beyond the date of his scheduled execution, Paul Jaworski, Pennsylvania's arch-bandit killer today maintained his stolid indifference after learning that his last hope to escape the electric chair has passed.

"That ain't such bad news, Warden," Jaworski told Warden John McNeil when the latter brought the killer word that the Pennsylvania pardons board at Harrisburg had denied his appeal for a sanity commission and possible commutation of his sentence from death to life imprisonment.

Shows Little Concern.

Jaworski dropped off to sleep last night after finishing the latest installment of a magazine story, and spent an untroubled night, according to his guards. The killer of Isaiah Gump, payroll guard, asserted murderer of several others and leader of the dreaded Flathead gang shows no fear of his impending fate.

The appeal of his sister, Mrs. Catherine L. Logan, of Detroit, for a san-

Women's Club Federation Sends Commendation On Kellogg Treaty Action

BORAH AND REED TO GET MESSAGES

Acting for the Federation of Women's clubs under the direction of Mrs. Chas. Greer president, Mrs. W. A. Taylor, legislative chairman of the Federation today wired Senator David A. Reed and Senator William E. Borah thanking them for their interest and support of the Kellogg-Briand multilateral treaty to outlaw war.

For weeks this treaty has been under fire and for a time it was thought that the United States would not ratify. Headed by Senator Bingham a bloc of 25 senators insisted upon an interpretative report from the Committee of Foreign Relations. With this report before them the senators than ratified it by a vote of 85-1.

President Coolidge believes this multilateral treaty to be one of, if not the most important piece of work done during his career as president and is mightily pleased over the success of it in the senate.

The local Federation of Women's clubs has been interested in the treaty and upon the vote being made public Mrs. Charles Greer president, instructed Mrs. Taylor too wire Senators Reed and Borah.

Kaltenbaugh, whose home is in Grove City, Pa., was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon and Prosecutor Henry Harter Jr. has insisted that he be brought into court. Secretary Of Interior Position May Be Given To Louis Cates, Report

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The next secretary of the interior quite probably will be Louis S. Cates, Utah mining engineer.

The post is going to a westerner. That much already has been determined. President-elect Hoover has informed callers that he plans to appoint to this office a man who is familiar with the problems of the far west, and who has had actual experience in working them out.

Has Strong Backing.

Cates, general manager of the Utah Copper Company, has the backing of most of the far western Republicans in Washington. His appointment has been advocated by Senator Smoot of Utah, a powerful figure in the senate; by Senator Oddie of Nevada, and by other outstanding Republicans of the Rocky mountain region, in whose judgment the president-elect has considerable confidence.

The appointment of an engineer to the secretaryship of interior is peculiarly appropriate in the new administration if for no other reason than that one of the greatest engineering projects of all time—Boulder Dam—is to be undertaken and completed than that travelled by the peace treaty. Whereas the treaty had seventy advocates at all times, the largest administration poll showed but 59 senators favoring the naval bill. It undoubtedly will be enacted if it can be brought to a final vote, but the opposition may filibuster it to death.

The anti-war treaty meanwhile was being sent back to the State Department with a formal notice of its ratification by the Senate. The vote was 85 to 1, with only Senator Blaine (R.) of Wisconsin, opposing it. Blaine did so as a protest against what he termed the treaty's endorsement of the British policy of imperialism. He first sought to add a reservation exempting the United States from any approval of British imperialism, and when the Senate rejected it, he voted against the treaty.

Debated Two Weeks

The irreconcilables, led by Senator Reed (D.) of Missouri, and Moses (R.) of New Hampshire, voted for ratification after they won a clear-cut victory for an American interpretation of the treaty. The interpretation was expressed in a report from the Senate foreign relations committee, which Senator Borah (R.) of Idaho filed with the Senate. It set forth that the United States interpreted the treaty to mean that it could wage war in self-defense at any time, that the Monroe Doctrine was not involved and that ratification did not infer approval of any other treaty.

The treaty, a brief one, was debated for two weeks and provoked more differences of opinion in the Senate than any other subject debated in years. All the arguments were quieted when the Senate foreign relations committee rendered what it termed a "true interpretation of the treaty."

and that earlier in the morning the temperature had reached a lower mark.

County Commissioner Calvin C. Boyd of Pulaski, reported that in that district at 7 o'clock this morning the thermometer had registered 16 below also.

From East Brook came the report that a 5:30 o'clock this morning the mercury dropped until it hit the 20 below mark and remained at a standstill. It rose slowly as day approached and was several degrees less about 8 o'clock this morning.

From Ellwood comes the report from several persons that the temperature barely touched the zero mark at a number of places, while in North Beaver township George Stevenson of the Mt. Jackson road reported that at 5 a. m. the thermometer registered 17 below and that the temperature had risen to 12 below shortly after 6 o'clock. At the Golden Dale cemetery on the Mt. Jackson and Bessemer road the temperature has been reported as being 20 below zero.

Other North Beaver residents state that it was but a few degrees below about 8 o'clock. Bessemer reported eight below early this morning and but two below about 8 o'clock.

The concensus of opinion gathered from weather reports from the county is that this was the coldest of any morning during the winter months and that the exceedingly low temperatures were not found everywhere. There seems to have been a twist in the trail of King Winter which left very low temperatures here and moderation there.

SEVERAL HUNDRED BILLS INTRODUCED INTO LEGISLATURE

more definite shape before they are reported from committee.

One of the bills that is expected to raise considerable argument in the senate is that of Senator Robert D. Heaton, Schuylkill, providing for the repeal of the anthracite coal tax. In the house a similar measure is being sponsored by Representative Jones, Luzerne.

To Fight Repeal.

The anthracite tax was enacted in 1921 as a revenue raiser and has since yielded about $10,000,000 a biennium to the commonwealth. The tax at present amounts to about eight cents per ton.

Opponents of this law maintain that it has aided materially in curtailing the anthracite market during the time that it has been in force. There have been many rumors that its repeal will be hard fought, although those who take this attitude admit that the law is not favorable to the anthracite industry, but argue that it cannot be repealed until a substitute measure of some sort is provided to insure the revenue that will be lost if the anthracite tax is repealed.

Open Sunday Bill Goes In

Another bill that is expected to bring forth a lively discussion is that of Representative Michael A. Musmanno, Allegheny, providing optional Sunday sports and entertainments for individual communities whose voters favor such activities.

Under the provision of this bill various sports events, motion picture shows, and other forms of entertainment could be held after 3 p. m. on Sundays without violating the old blue laws of 1794, which prohibits any worldly amusements on the Sabbath day. However, it is known that in more than one community at present these old laws are ignored because of the favorable public sentiment toward such activities. This new bill would legalize these amusements on Sunday.

Of the 146 bills introduced in the house many deal with various phases of highway improvements which do not come under the recommendations of Governor John S. Fisher as set forth in his message to the legislature on January 1. The governor urged that no additional construction be undertaken until the department of highways had completed the program already outlined, about 4,500 miles of which still needs improvement.

The outlook at present indicates that before the end of the present week much progress will have been made by the various committees in the work of considering the various bills for presentation of the floors of both houses.

SECRETARY INTERIOR POSITION MAY BE GIVEN LOUIS CATES

during the next administration. Mr. Hoover wants the responsible cabinet officer to be a man familiar and sympathetic with the engineering problems of this vast enterprise.

Secretaryship Goes "West"

Mr. Hoover's remark to a caller that the secretaryship of the interior is "going west" resulted today in some diminution of the pressure in behalf of Mrs. A. T. Hert, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, although few persons around Mr. Hoover have ever thought seriously that he would appoint a woman to his cabinet, there has been a steady stream of sponsors for Mrs. Hert calling at Hoover headquarters and proposing her name. Every Republican leader in Kentucky, and some from surrounding states, have joined in this pilgrimage.

Mrs. Hert took herself out of consideration today with the issuance of a statement saying she did not wish any governmental post in the new administration.

Parade Continues.

Mrs. Hert declared she was merely one of many Republican women who had given their services to the Hoover cause without thought of reward. It was the secretaryship of interior for which Mrs. Hert's friends were booming her.

The big parade of visitors to Hoover headquarters showed no signs of slackening today. A score of callers had engagements. Most of them were from congress, and among them were Senators Jones of Washington, Edge of New Jersey, Robinson of Indiana, Brookhart of Iowa, Reps. Welch of California, Kahn of California, Hadley of Washington, Bowman of West Virginia, Linthicum of Maryland, Leavitt of Montana, Hall of Illinois, Lehbach of New Jersey, Britten of Illinois, Johnson of Washington, Cooper of Ohio, Hoch of Kansas, Johnson of South Dakota, and Mapes of Michigan.

ity commission to examine her brother was the last step to save Joworski's life. There is little possibility that Governor John S. Fisher will intervene, since the governor set an early execution date on the special request of the killer himself.

Mrs. Logan sought to prove that when Jaworski was shot and captured in Cleveland last year after killing a policeman, one of the bullet wounds rendered him insane.

The "mob" leader was convicted of killing Gump, a payroll guard of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Co., during a robbery at Mollenauer on Christmas Eve, 1925.

Appeal Fails.

Mrs. Logan, through Attorney Barney Cohen, presented an application to the state board of pardons at Harrisburg, in which she contended that her brother is insane.

First Assistant District Attorney Andrew Park opposed the fight to have a sanity commission appointed. He presented four affidavits to support the county's position that Jaworski is entirely rational and declared that Jaworski is the most dangerous criminal ever held in Allegheny county.

Park told of Jaworski's activities as leader of the Flathead gang, of his capture a few hours after the $104,000 Coverdale payroll robbery, of the bandit's confession and the unearthing of nearly $40,000 of the loot; of his admission of other holdups in the county and of the murder of Gump.

Activities Recited.

The assistant district attorney continued his recital with description of Jaworski's escape from the county jail Aug. 18, 1927, in company with Jack Vasbinder, another convicted murderer, and his brother Sam Jaworski, now serving sentence for aiding in the escape.

Park concluded with the bandit leader's arrest in Cleveland following a gun fight in which a policeman was killed and Jaworski was injured. Jaworski has a wife and a nine-month-old child in Chicago. His parent's home is in Hamtramck, Mich., while the bandit made his home in the Charleroi district.

George Harsh Is Believed Insane, Attorney Asserts

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 16.—The contention that George Harsh, confessed "thrill" slayer, is "mentally diseased" was laid today before the jury trying him for the murder of Willard Smith, a druggist, in an October hold-up here.

At the same time, Ben. J. Conyers, defense attorney, dashed the erstwhile student's hope for freedom when he told the jurymen that "we are not dreaming of turning this boy back upon society."

COURT POSTPONES MURDER HEARING FOR BRIEF PERIOD

for him when the youth replies in the negative.

Insanity As Defense

The youth's defense is expected to be based on insanity. Oser, a dairy farmer of near Canal Fulton, was shot through the head as he was milking, the murderer firing through the window of the dairy shed with Oser's own .32-caliber rifle.

Mrs. Oser was also shot, beaten and her body, clad only in a nightgown, thrown on a pile of rocks. Arrested at his home in Grove City, Pa., Kaltenbaugh, the Oser's hired hand, admitted the double murder and said his desire for the Oser automobile, with which to impress a girl in New Castle, Pa., was the motive.

An indictment, containing two counts of premeditated murder, was returned against him by the Stark county grand jury.

Dangerous Places In Downtown Streets

Ice is several inches thick on sidewalks on the north side of East Washington street between Diamond way and North Jefferson street and also on the east side of North Jefferson street immediately north of the Diamond. Pedestrians are apt to slip and sustain injury.

SKIDDING CAR IS CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

C. G. Snyder, 212 East Wallace avenue, reported to the police today that he was driving west on East Washington street at Chestnut street, when a car ahead bearing Pennsylvania license 437-618 and driven by Arthur Smith, skidded and swung across the street with the rear of the machine against the curb, at the south side of the street.

There was plenty of room for Mr. Snyder to pass, but as he attempted to do so, the other machine pulled out from the curb and they came together. Some damage was done.

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

In all history, no Indian was ever known to have constipation. Nor need YOU. He chewed the bark of a tree called cascara. Today, we have the candy Cascaret.

Cascarizing the bowels never forms a laxative habit. If already formed, an occasional Cascaret will usually break the habit. For cascara strengthens the muscular walls of the bowels, and their need of any aid at all grows constantly less. What other cathartic has this characteristic? The writer knows of none.

An evacuation brought gently about by cascara will, nine times in ten, be followed by full functioning of the bowels on the morrow—and for days after. For there is no REACTION as with sickening salts, or any of the man-made purgatives that go through one's system like a bullet.

Physicians tell us cascara is the ideal laxative—and the tongue tells us candy Cascarets are its ideal form. At least a million people know this; what a pity there are any who don't! Especially parents; because children love to take a Cascaret. After which, for days-on-end, the bowels will be seen to work of their own accord.

The only habit from cascara is that of regularity! Cascarets tone and train the bowels. But at the first sign of returning sluggishness another Cascaret is as effective as the first.

There isn't a druggist who hasn't Cascarets, so WHY experiment with laxatives?

BEHAVIOR AND MARRIAGE

A NOTED psychologist announces:

"The mystery of marriage has been broken down. We must have a new kind of ethics, based on a scientific study of human behavior, as a way to more simple marital relations."

But what does it mean? Certainly not that the ways into and out of matrimony should be further simplified. If either is to be made much easier, the accurate description will not be marriage but temporary association.

It is a very old-fashioned view, and probably easily refuted in this day by eminent psychologists and sociologists, but there is something to be said for the theory that what is needed is not so much study of human behavior, for the purpose of fitting marriage to it, as study of marriage for the purpose of fitting human behavior to it.

It is not a light thing for a man and a woman to give themselves to each other and it is still less a light thing for them to bring children into the world. Those who assume the responsibility should be willing to apply a little sandpaper to their habits and conduct that they may fit well into their new position in life.

Love usually comes into being as a wild flower. Unless those who find the treasure care enough to tend and nurture and domesticate it, its life will be the brief one of most wild things. Properly cherished, it may acquire hues of deep and rare beauty never found in the wild state. And after all the "rights" one surrenders at the portals of matrimony are more precious in the dispossession than in the possession.

LAWS VS. CHARACTER

THE people of the United States have great faith in the power of the statute. Of legislative enactments they expect miracles. Not even the supernatural could achieve some of the duties the people impose upon the laws their legislative representatives make for them.

It is not unusual for the American people to seek self-discipline through laws. They invoke the statute books to restrain them from doing that which they believe they should not do but lack the moral courage and will power to refrain from doing.

For many years legislatures in every state have enacted laws designed to prevent the individual from squandering his earnings and dissipating his savings. The statute books are cluttered with enactments against gambling of all sorts and descriptions, dishonest stock salesmen and their worthless wares, confidence men and their schemes, land sharks, promoters and organizers.

Every law of this sort is a confession of weakness on the part of some portion of the nation's populace. Each stands on the statute books as an accusing finger pointing to those who have so little character that they must be disciplined by law like the child must be disciplined by its parent. If too much discipline is detrimental to the character of the child, will not too many laws tend to undermine the national character?

As a rule laws are futile in strengthening the character of an individual or a people. Often statutes have served to retard the natural development of character through education. It must be manifest to all that the so-called "purse-string" laws have failed to check the public from exercising its gambling instinct in games of chance, wild-cat stocks and betting.

Those who lack self-control, once they have enacted laws for their own disciplining, have not the courage to enforce their disciplinary laws against themselves. Who is at fault when others use the whip they have given them?

MAKING OF A NEWSPAPER

AS AN illustration of the amount of material that goes into the making of a daily newspaper, the Philadelphia Bulletin has taken a single issue of its paper—that for June 4, 1928—and republished it in book form. After eliminating all advertising and all large headlines, it makes a bound volume of 307 pages—the size of the average novel. Probably a single day's issue of such papers as the New York Times, if printed in book form, would make a much larger volume, comments a contemporary.

The book issued by the Bulletin is entitled "One Day." It is designed to show how a single copy of the Evening Bulletin looks when published as a book. With the exception of a brief introduction, and an occasional footnote, the volume is strictly limited to the contents of one edition.

The issue selected for this undertaking was slightly below normal in size. It contained 102.48 columns of news, editorials, pictures, and reading matter of all kinds, while the average for June was 112.89 columns.

The demonstration that a modern afternoon newspaper assembles, sets up and prints the equivolent of a book a day will no doubt startle those who have assumed from the price at which a newspaper is sold that the cost of its preparation is small. A great newspaper now prints, exclusive of advertising, as much as 100,000 words a day—the size of the modern novel.

It has taken the Bulletin since last June to prepare and issue this material in book form. It took less than twenty-four hours to prepare and issue it in newspaper form.

Propaganda has progressed to the point where the average editor's wastebasket is the entire office floor.

It would be very embarrassing if Mr. Mussolini found that somewhere among his irresistible army of 5,000,000 he had raised another Mussolini.

Marshal Foch.
The Slow Mind of Man.
The Standard Oil Fight.
How Is It In Heaven?

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features Syn., Inc.)

Marshal Foch is dangerously ill of heart disease, at 77.

He is an able strategist, one of the great fighting Frenchmen. It was an inspiration to hear him say, in a voice of determination that actually made his hearers' flesh creep, "There was nothing to do but start the armies and CONQUER."

His look and his voice uttering that last word "vaincre," "conquer", showed the power in that brain, half Basque, half French.

Marshal Foch will die a contented, happy man, knowing that his genius, backed and selected by Clemeanceau and Lloyd George, maintained the integrity of France. He will lie under the gilded dome of the Palace of Invalides, close to the tomb of Napoleon Bonaparte, greatest of all modern generals, but not half so good a man as Foch, and not a patriot.

The American Philosophical society "surveys the world's intellect" and will not find much improvement.

Man's brain is little, if any, better than it was a thousand years ago. There is no leader greater than Xenophon, no mind capable of containing half the information that Aristotle possessed, and to a great extent originated.

No modern writers compare with Greeks, Homer, Euripides, Sophocles, Aristophanes, except Shakespeare. No artist except Michel-Angelo to compare with Greek sculptors.

But man has gone on inventing, adding to scientific discoveries, making life longer, disease less dangerous, wealth greater.

Man has changed and improved little within himself, but has steadily added to his valuable productions, like a hen laying many eggs but remaining the same hen.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., requests proxies against Col. Stewart, head of the Standard Oil of Indiana. Col. Stewart accepts the challenge and will fight.

That interests employes of Standard Oil of Indiana owning stock in the company.

Wonder what will happen if they send proxies to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Col. Stewart wins the fight?

Of eight men killed in an army transport plane recently, five are buried in Arlington cemetery.

Lieut. Angell has a service in the vault at the cemetery, and four others are buried in the enlisted men's section of the cemetery.

Those eight men all lost their lives in the service of their country. WHY an enlisted men's section?

Is there an enlisted men's section in heaven? Or does that nonsense stop after you leave the cemetery?

Amanullah, king of Afghanistan, has an idea and tried to make the Afghans adopt it.

European clothes for all, no veils on our wives' faces, was his plan.

Veils remain on Afghan women's faces and Amanullah has abdicated.

His father was assassinated, he wants to live, and passes the throne to his brother Inayatullah.

Those who believe it possible to change the habits of millions by writing a Volstead law, take notice.

Bootleg statistics show that it is, at least, difficult.

In New York Monday, with temperature seven degrees above zero, a man died of cold. That will amuse the Eskimos and Mr. Nurmi, who runs rapidly. In Finland, where he was born, the temperature drops to 50 degrees below zero.

California, Florida and the Gulf Coast will be interested.

Newspaper publishers learn with interest and without grief, that increased newsprint production in Canada has caused a drop in prices of $10 to $15 a ton. Newsprint producers say reduction of output, or price war, is inevitble. In 11 years Canadian production has risen from 689,847 to 2,000,000 tons a year.

LISTEN SON.
(By An Unknown Author.)

I am saying this to you as you lie asleep, one little paw crumpled under your cheek and the blond curls stickily wet on your damp forehead. I have stolen into your room alone. Just a few minutes ago as I sat reading my paper in the library a hot stifling wave of remorse swept over me. I could not resist it. Guiltily I came to your bedside.

"These are the things I was thinking my son: I had been cross to you. I scolded you as you were dressing for school because you gave your face merely a dab with a towel. I took you to task for not cleaning your shoes. I called out angrily when I found you had thrown some of your things on the floor.

"At breakfast I found fault too. You spilled things. You gulped down your food. You put your elbows on the table. You spread butter too thick on your bread. And as you started off to play I made for my train, you turned and waved a little hand and called 'Good-bye Daddy!' and I frowned and said in reply, 'Hold your shoulders back.'

"Then it began all over again in the late afternoon. As I came up the hill road I spied you down on your knees playing marbles. There were holes in your stockings. I humiliated you before your boy friends by making you march ahead of me back to the house. Stockings were expensive—and if you had to buy them you would be more careful. Imagine that, son, from a father! It was such stupid, silly logic.

"Do you remember later when I was reading in the library, how you came in softly, timidly, with a sort of hurt hunted look in you eyes? When I glanced up over my paper impatient at the interruption, you hesitated at the door. 'What is it you want?' I snapped.

"You said nothing but ran across in one tempestous plunge and threw your arms around my neck and kissed me again and again and your small arms tightened with an affection that God has set blooming in your heart and which even neglect could not wither. And then you were gone, pattering up the stairs.

"Well son it was shortly afterwards that my paper slipped from my hands and a terrible sickening fear came over me. Suddenly I saw myself as I really was in all my horrible selfishness and I felt sick at heart.

"What has habit been doing to me? The habit of complaining, of finding fault, of reprimanding—all of these were my rewards to you for being a boy. It was not that I did not love you; it was that I expected so much of youth. It was measuring you by the yardstick of my own years.

"And there was so much that was good and fine and true in your character. You did not deserve my treatment of you son. The little heart of you was as big as the dawn itself over the wide hills. All this was shown by your spontaneous impulse to rush in and kiss me good night. Nothing else matters tonight son. I have come to your bedside in the darkness and I have knelt there, choking with emotion and so ashamed!

"It is a feeble atonement, I know you would not understand these things if I told them to you during your wakening hours, yet I must say what I am saying. I must burn sacrificial fires, alone, here in your bedroom and make free confession. And I have prayed God to strengthen me in my new resolve. Tomorrow I will be a real daddy. I will chum with you and suffer when you suffer and laugh when you laugh. I will bite my tongue when impatient words come. I will keep saying as if it were a ritual: 'He is nothing but a boy—a little boy!'

"I am afraid I have vicualized you as a man. Yet as I see you now son crumpled and weary in your cot, I see that you are still a baby. Yesterday you were in your mother's arms your head on her shoulder. I have asked too much, too much.

"Dear boy! Dear little son! A penitent kneels at your infant shrine, here in the moonlight. I kiss the little fingers and the damp forehead."

The most popular reading matter in jail is the calendar.

It is estimated in Washington, D. C., that up to January 5 this year about 26,000 persons had died from the effects of the flu. Expert doctors say the flu is not a serious malady, and if one goes to bed and keeps warm when it attacks there will be very little to it. However, they say when it is complicated with other diseases it's goodbye and farewell in many cases.

Wonder what the sentimentalists think of a crook who runs over and kills or maims a fellow human on the highways and then keeps right on going and never even looks back. Yes, we think that is the right penalty!

Question Mark's Record Flight Foreshadows Girdling Of Globe

New Prophesies Of Rapid Development In Air Transportation Follow Remarkable Performance Of Army Plane And Crew

Success of the Army plane, Question Mark, in its record endurance flight on the Pacific Coast gives rise to many new prophecies of rapid air development in the near future. It is believed not only that the globe soon will be circled, but that there will be a wide resultant extension of the scope of air transportation.

As a climax of recent achievements, the feat suggests to the OAKLAND TRIBUNE the fact that "the same year that saw the 25th anniversary of aviation was one of outstanding progress in aeronautics," and that, following the "ten great flights of 1928," there comes in the new year the development that "all endurance records have been broken in a flight which also demonstrated the possibility of refueling airplanes while in the air."

"What this epoch-making test seems to demonstrate," according to the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR, "is the possibility of sustained non-stop flights clear about the earth, provided subsidiary gasoline-freighted machines are in readiness at proper intervals. It would take long planning and elaborate equipment to assure such a venture. Yet it may be attempted." The TRENTON EVENING TIMES holds that "these American pilots and American motors have achieved results which redound to the advantage of aeronautics in an inspirational as well as a practical way." The ALBANY EVENING NEWS sees value in the flight, remarking that "It may have no marked immediate benefit but it does show the further possibilities of aviation and it gives more and more confidence in flying."

"The impetus given to the project for a non-stop air trip around the world," is called by the WASHINGTON STAR "one of the most interesting developments of the flight," and that paper is convinced that "it is well within the realm of possibilities that during the coming summer the greatest of all flights will be credited to an American machine and an American aviator."

"If there were fuel ships scattered through the Atlantic and Pacific carrying tons of gas to supply planes, these convenient deep-sea filling stations would cause transoceanic air touring to increase by leaps and bounds," in the opinion of the BIRMINGHAM NEWS, and the FLINT DAILY JOURNAL suggests several future possibilities: "In military use, planes can go aloft with large cargoes of bombs and small gasoline supply, the pilots depending on refueling from the air. In commercial flying, greater cargoes can be carried and stops can be eliminated."

"What seems to interest aeronautical men especially," says the KALAMAZOO GAZETTE, "is the fact that the Question Mark was refueled 37 times during the long grind. Not only gasoline, but oil, food, and all manner of supplies were carried up to the roaring monoplane and transferred without the slightest mishap." The MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER believes that "in time, it is not unlikely that it will be a common practice to refuel planes in flight on commercial lines." The SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS suggests that "the aerial tanker soon may become a familiar sight, and other devices also may be employed to supply planes with fuel while in flight."

"The readiness with which the human mechanism adapts itself to conditions has been demonstrated by the crew of the Question Mark," states the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, observing that "the motors had roared steadily more than six days and the fliers had taken their rest to the accompaniment of that terrific din." The RICHMOND NEWS LEADER agrees that "a man who has to listen for days to the unbroken roar of airplane motors is entitled to all the distinction he gets by breaking a record."

The LEXINGTON LEADER points to "one of the spectacular features of the flight," which, aside from the refueling, has been the work of the mechanics who have made all repairs in flight, who have changed spark plugs, stopped the propeller of one of the motors and repaired it, and have gone about their tasks in a routine manner and with as much indifference as though under the roof of a garage."

"The achievement of the Question Mark," says the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "was a distinct and valuable contribution to the cause of aviation, and not in the same class with some suicidal attempts that have been made in the last year to do impossible stunts that would have been of little or no value to mankind even if they had been successful." The YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR declares: "It was a flight every American can be proud of. Several days ago the Germans whose record Major Spatz and his men set out to beat spoke of the achievement as 'stupendous' and there is no question that the courage and endurance required for such a feat sets a new standard for all the flyers' countrymen."

"It was not so much that a plane, the work of man, stayed in the air more than seven days without ever touching wheels to earth or even approaching the ground," remarks the HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH, "but that human skill and ingenuity could so contrive and operate a machine that would perform with the perfection of the Question Mark."

"The brilliant exploit," predicts the SYRACUSE HERALD, "will have the sure effect of deepening popular confidence in the element of safety in air travel, and particularly in the constantly increasing efficiency and reliability of airplane mechanism. In In other words this record-breaking trial of the Army airplane must be viewed as a tremendous advertisement of the utility of air transportation, not alone for the service of passengers who are ready to take the risk, but, in a much larger measure, for the rapid carriage of light and valuable merchandise."

The superiority of the human element is recognized by the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, with the statement: "Machinery had been driven to its limits. Friction, strain, vibration and the heat of exploding gas had done their work. The flight was over, with man still the master of the thing he had created. But what a record had been achieved! And what vistas of imaginative speculation the achievement opens up!"

FATHER TIME

Old Father Time is never stopped by any signal light.
He never has to heed a sign: "No turning, left or right."
He never meets a traffic jam. In all this world he's one
Through storm or shine or good or ill who just keeps traveling on.

Old Father Time is never stopped by omnibus or train
His hour hand upon the dot the goal ahead will gain.
He will not pause for flood or fire nor rest beneath the shade
Nor stand upon the curb to watch a circus street parade.

The sun comes up and then goes down and Father Time moves on There's nothing in this human play he stops to look upon.
So many minutes to the hour, so many hours a day
He measures out to men on earth let come or go what may.

But man must wait for trains and tides and stop for signal lights,
And even pause to catch his breath while climbing mountain heights.
While Father Time goes trudging on with sure and measured beat
I think I'd rather be a man and sometimes stop to eat.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MAN'S CONSTANT STRUGGLE

Time takes its toll of the beautiful things of the world and it is no child's play to preserve great buildings.

The unremitting fight to save the famous dome of St. Paul's Cathedral in London from crumbling under the terrific and incessant vibrations caused by passing traffic, enters a new phase with the application of a monstrous chain to the dome.

This chain, which will be bound four times around the dome, just under the famous Whispering Gallery, weighs thirty tons. It is 450 feet long, and is made up of 120 links.

It looks like a gigantic bicycle chain, and dwarfs the already massive chain supports that help at present to hold the great dome together.

NOTHING BUT SMOKE

Cigarette smoking has come to stay and may give immeasurable delight to miultitudes of people, but—

"The amazing growth in the use of cigarettes is reflected in the government's report on internal revenue collections during the first five months of the current fiscal year. While receipts from all sources were over eight millions less than in the corresponding period of 1927, the yield of the cigarette tax alone increased over fourteen millions. Evidently, if a deficit is avoided by the treasury at the end of the fiscal year the cigarette smokers will have played a big part in the outcome. From July to November, inclusive, they paid into the treasury, indirectly through the manufacturers, a fourth as much as the government received from personal and corporate income taxes."

SALLY'S SALLIES

There are two kinds of men—the brave and the bachelors.

Relates Some Habits Of Accused Slayer

Louis Morassuti of Sandusky, O., who had the slate and cement contract at Old Main Memorial Hall, Westminster College, New Wilmington, was in the city Tuesday and was very much interested in learning the particulars concerning Edward Kaltenbaugh, confessed slayer of John and Bertha Oser at Canal Fulton, O.

According to Morassuti, Kaltenbaugh, who proved a good workman on the job, was never fired by him but was to have returned to work there and later go with him to Erie, where he has a contract on a school.

Kaltenbaugh was paid off November 24 with the understanding that he was to return to work the following Monday. He never did deturn and left at the hotel in New Wilmington, his work shoes, overalls and a number of other little articles, which are still there.

He also left behind him a small indebtedness for two visits to a barbershop in New Wilmington, according to Morassuti.

Kaltenbaugh was continually telling untruths, one of them being that he was from Volant.

One of his peculiarities according to Morassuti was his habit of forcing his company on others at the hotel at meal time.

He was habitually returning early in the morning, about 4 a. m., to New Wilmington from some place, that was unknown to Morassuti.

He was always speaking of his car, yet Morassuti never saw him have one. One time, he secured his pay in advance on the grounds that he wanted to make a payment on it. He did not bring back any car.

Kaltenbaugh was always laughing and the other workmen had a habit of teasing him concerning his girl. Apparently he never went out with girls and there was no indication that he was a drinking man, according to Morassuti.

One of the peculiar things about him according to Mr. Morassuti was the fact that whenever spoken to, he jumped and then was in a hurry to do what he was told.

Morassuti showed two pay checks signed by Kaltenbaugh. Just as in his confession here, the signatures had a tendency to run away below the line toward the end.

Morassuti was surprised on learning the type of a criminal that had been working for him. He stated that he would have trusted him with most anything.

He never showed any tendency to want to take money. On one occasion Morassuti had paid off in cash and had some $175 remaining in his pocket. He and Kaltenbaugh were working themselves on this Saturday afternoon.

Kaltenbaugh laughingly remarked to Morassuti that the latter had lots of money. That was all that was said and nothing occurred.

75,000 Locks, Keys Keep One Man Busy

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16.—When you think of how often you have lost your own keys and how frequently the best locks refuse to "click" at the proper time you realize that looking after 75,000 of them is quite a job.

That is the job that T. K. Rife, an employe of the Department of Property and Supplies, has been doing for more than twenty years.

When Rife entered State service, of course, there were not as many locks. He estimates at that time 5000 needed attention.

Since then the activities of the State have increased. Additional buildings have been erected and with each a few more thousand door and desk locks have been added to those that need repair and the keys that will get lost.

But a veteran lock expert—who learned to be a watchmaker—keeps them all in repair. In his "spare time" he does the same for adding, calculating and other similar machines.

Frayne Resigns As Assistant Executive To John Pennington

Western Pennsylvania And West Virginia Loses Good Man from Enforcement Bureau

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan 16.—Joseph A. Frayne, assistant federal prohibition administrator for Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, in charge of the intelligence department, has tendered his resignation, it was learned today. He gave as his reason a desire to better his position.

The resignation, which comes as a distinct surprise in prohibition circles here, removes from the service the man who was directly back of the recent federal grand jury investigation into alleged rum conspiracy rings here. Frayne had been in the government service for the past fifteen years.

John D. Pennington, dry administrator, said that Frayne's loss would be keenly felt, but indicated that Frayne would be available as a witness in the rum conspiracy case and others in which he figured.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

Posse Hunting For Wild Man

Believe Missing Farmer Is Responsible For Seizure Of Young Woman

(International News Service)

OHIOPYLE, Pa., Jan. 16.—A posse of citizens today joined in the hunt for the "wild man of Stewart township" following an alleged attack on Miss Lena Henning, 20, on the outskirts of this place last night.

A haggard man, answering the description of Hilary Wilburn, missing Stewart township farmer, a shell-shocked veteran of the World war, seized Miss Henning while she was on her way home at 11 o'clock last night. She freed herself, after a struggle, and ran to the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Shipley, nearby.

This morning a posse, some of them armed, sought to trace Miss Henning's assailant by footprints in the snow. They followed the marks to Reinbeer park where the trail was lost.

Wilburn has been missing since December 7 when he left home, armed with a rifle to hunt bear. Several days ago the rifle, identified as Wilburn's, was found by a farmer near Ursina who saw a man disappear with a pig over his shoulder. State police have hunted the "wild man" for several days without result.

He was married to Anna Hindman, a daughter of John Hindman, of this city. Sin Discussed By Evangelist Sweeten

Congregation Hears Logical Message At Service In Primitive Church

In spite of the intense cold weather a good sized congregation was present Tuesday evening in the Primitive Methodist church to hear the evangelist, Rev. Howard Sweeten deliver a message on sin.

Rev. Sweeten took for his text the scripture found in Romans 8:2 and John 8:36. "For the law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus has made me free from the law of Sin and Death." "If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed."

The speaker said that one of the outstanding obstacles of today is the erroneous doctrine that no person can live without sin. Sin is the greatest malady and it takes an extreme price for its redemption. Christ has come to set us free from sin. If he is unable to do this then the place of salvation breaks down at the most needed part.

In Christ alone the bondage of sin ih broken, the preacher declared. In Him only man can find personal liberty. God has made the provision to free from Sin, but every one has the power to refuse or accept His mercy.

Because some refuse to believe, this will not change the truth. God's law can free men from sin.

Rev. Sweeten will preach each evening the remainder of the week with the exception of Saturday. Music by the choir is a special feature.

Coroner Warns Of Gas Stove Danger During Cold Snap

Coroner J. P. Caldwell calls attention to the danger which arises from gas stoves, especially in weather such as we have been having for the past few days. "Care should be taken to leave a window partly open where a gas stove is used in heating a bed room," says the coroner. "Even if the stove appears to have good combustion, there is danger of monoxide poisoning from the burned gas.

"In warming up a car in a garage during a cold snap like the present, motorists should see that a door of the garage is open. It is best to open a door and go outside, if the engine is left running to heat up the car.

"The first warning sign of monoxide is a ringing in the head."

Keystone State To Share In Hoover Inauguration

(From News Bureau (State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16.—Pennsylvania, the state that gave President-elect Hoover his largest majority, is planning to be officially represented at the inaugural ceremonies in Washington on March 4.

Governor Fisher and members of his cabinet will be present. The governor is not expected to parade on horseback as did his predecessor four years ago when ex-Governor Pinchot headed the Keystone state delegation.

The Pennsylvania delegation will include high officers of the National Guard and members of the General Assembly.

The state's participation will be in keeping with Mr. Hoover's wishes for a quiet inaugural. When the Republican ticket was elected last fall state leaders first considered joining in the exercises in an elaborate scale. Now these plans have been altered.

Pennsylvania's section in the parade will consist of the governor, his cabinet, general officers and the regimental colonels of the guard units. The only enlisted men in the line will be those needed to carry the flags. The color section will include the state flag, World War standards and regimental colors. This was a feature of Governor Fisher's inaugural two years ago.

Many members of the legislature have announced their intention of attending the ceremonies. A special train probably will leave here on Monday morning, March 4, for Washington. The usual Monday night session of the legislature will be omitted that week.

Forceful Message At Services At Free Methodist

Evangelist Thomas' message Tuesday evening at the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church was from first Samuel 28:15, "I am sore distressed for the Philistines make war against me, and God is departed from me, and answereth me no more, neither by prophets nor by dreams."

He said in part that possible no person ever started out with greater advantages than he.

He had a goodly presence. He was head and shoulders above his fellows.

He was an obedient son. He went at the behest of his father in search for the lost animals.

He was a man of great physical courage. A fearless man. This was shown, when he delivered Israel from the hand of the Amonites.

He was a modest man. Hid himself among the stuff when he was to be made king.

He was a man acquainted with God. After his anointing by Samuel, God gave him another heart.

But he usurped the priest office, and disobeyed God relative to the total destruction of the Amalekites.

And because of his disobedience God departed from him, and would not hear him.

Seventh Ward Boy Injured Coasting

Pitzer of 805 West Clayton street, reported to the police last night that he was going east on East Madison avenue and had paused for a short time in front of Spurrier's gasoline service station when a boy named Goodfield aged about 11 years coasted on his sled under the Pitzer machine near one of the rear wheels.

Mr. Pitzer was in act of pulling out from the service staton at the time and the right rear wheel of the machine ran over the boy's right foot. Harry Spurrier of the service station picked up the boy and Mr. Pitzer took him to his home on Lafayette street. He did not appear to be seriously injured.

Lady Surprised Way Ten Herbs Benefited Her

Results Wonderful, She Says. Stomach, Kidneys And Bowels Helped.

"No one could have made me believe that any medicine could have so completely relieved my health troubles in such a short time as Ten Herbs has," was the recent statement of Mrs. Elizabeth Begly, 1760 West

MRS. ELIZABETH BEGLY

Liberty Avenue, South Hills, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, where he is daily demonstrating this tremendously successful compound to crowds of men and women. "Your medicine certainly has done wonders for me," Mrs. Begly continued.

"I suffered with my stomach for two years, and was on the verge of a complete physical break-down. I was troubled with gas, shortness of breath and heartburn. I lost my appetite entirely. There were pains in my back and limbs. I would have such terrible dizzy spells that I would almost fall over. I had been bothered with constipation for years and had to keep using laxatives. My kidneys were out of order and this caused me much distress.

"After reading in the papers of so many persons being helped by Ten Herbs, I started using your medicine. I feel like a new person now. Stomach trouble is gone, and I am free of gas pains and heartburn. The pains in my back and limbs are things of the past. I am no longer troubled with dizziness. Constipation has been corrected, and my kidneys seem to have been very much improved. My appetite is normal, and I feel much stronger. Ten Herbs gave me wonderful results, and I am pleased to recommend it to others."

Let Ten Herbs build up your general health—thoroughly cleanse and tone up your entire system. Let it benefit your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Then you will have greater power with which to resist influenza, la grippe, and other disease forces, and common colds.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Echaniz Proves Master Of Piano

Civic Music Association Audience Well Pleased With Concert

If mere technical excellence can be considered the prime and only requisite to artistry, then Mr. Jose Echaniz, the pianist who astounded members of the New Castle Civic Music Association at their concert Tuesday evening at The Cathedral, is an artist, and one of the highest calibre.

Of course, he is hampered by his instrument, the most common and most imperfect of all. Somehow it seems that a piano is impersonal, an instrument of strings and hammers and keys. Although it can be dominated, as Mr. Echaniz dominated his instrument Tuesday evening, it can never be subdued. Having no personality of its own, even the most brilliant technician, such as Mr. Echaniz is, cannot make his personality pervade through it.

The reason for all this is explained by a unique theory of the piano forte, put forth for the first time, in the opinion of this reviewer, by a Prussian professor of economics, who at one and the same time was perhaps the most satisfying performer on the instrument that your subscriber has ever heard.

"There is no intimate contact between the performer and the instrument," the Herr Professor Doktor used to say as he gazed sadly on his own piano." Hammers come into contact with strings and sets of strings in exactly the same way, whether it is played fff or ppp. Try as he will, no performer can get intimate with his instrument, as a violinist can get intimate with his violin. The piano, even in the hands of a most brilliant technician, is a cold instrument, much more given to brilliant passages than to slow and sustained harmonies.'

If this be the case, then Mr. Echaniz not only proved himself a master of his instrument, but he also displayed the fact that he is a clever showman. While more music is written for the piano than for any other instrument, yet its true library is perhaps the smallest. Out of this true library, Mr. Echaniz never strayed.

And, it was rather pleasing to note that, for his encores, Mr. Echaniz did not snub syncopated rhythms, the folk music of modern America. After his first encore, like as not one would expect him to break into even the wildest jazz.

Before his appreciative audience, which called him back again and again for encores, it is our present opinion that his best work was done when he essayed the Chorus of the Spinners from the Flying Dutchman, by Wagner, and the Twelfth Hungarian Rhapsody, by Liszt. It was then that his brilliant technique was displayed at its best, and the members of the association were generous with their applause.

Although thus far there have been no "big names" on New Castle's present concert course, yet there have appeared three serious people, always giving their best and always pleasing the members of the society.

BURGESS SON KILLED AS TRAIN HITS AUTO

PERKASIE, Pa., Jan 16.—Ralph Wismer, aged 19, son of William Wismer, burgess of Silverdale, was instantly killed when his automobile was hit by a Reading railroad express at Park avenue crossing. Wismer was hurled against a storehouse 200 feet from the railroad.

SHOOTING REPORTED.

Shooting was reported in the vicinity of the Ray Angley home, 104 Sankey street, Monday night. The police answering the call to that district were Detective John Young, and Officers Letera and McKee. On their arrival there they found it to be a case of family trouble and directed those effected to go to an alderman.

Need 1397 Trains To Move Material For Highway Work

HARRISBURG, Jan 16.—Highway material used in Pennsylvania during 1928 filled 69,870 railroad freight cars, 1397 trains of fifty cars each, the Pennsylvania Department of Highways announces. Imagine a train of freight cars with the caboose just leaving Philadelphia, extending over the Lincoln Highway to Pittsburgh, and doing an about face over the William Penn as far as Harrisburg, where 1000 locomotives would be puffing and snorting to pull the load. Allowing for the length of the locomotives and the space between cars due to couplings, the train would resemble a huge dog trying to catch his tail, for the lead engine would nearly touch the caboose in Philadelphia.

The first 11,000 cars of the train would be filled with cement, followed by 350 cars of brick, 13,000 cars of sand, 43,920 cars of stone and 1600 tank cars filled with oil.

In 1928 the Department used 16,430,693 gallons of bituminous oil for surface treatment of roads nearly enough to fill the smaller of two water reservoirs used in Harrisburg. That thirsty city uses about 12,000,000 gallons of water daily. Enough oil was sprayed on highways to cover the entire State like the dew.

If this oil could be passed through a power plant, dropping eleven feet upon the turbines, it would generate 2,190,759 horsepower of electricity. For each additional fall of eleven feet add the same number of horsepower.

The Department has made no calculation of the man-power exerted by motorists polishing oil spots off of their cars after a trip over oiled roads, although it must be a considerable item. Officials say, however that the new type of oil is far less difficult to get off the car than the original in use some years ago, and it does not injure the finish.

Heaping the 2,803,175 barrels of cement used in one great pile would dwarf the Capitol building by comparison, and Harrisburg's reservoirs would be drained in mixing this much cement for concrete work. The 4,000,000 vitrified bricks would go quite a distance toward a row of dwelling houses, but somewhat further in eighteen-foot highways.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By RUTH WAITE

Every woman with gray, faded or streaked hair is entitled to do something about it, for it is every woman's birthright to retain her youthfulness and charm as long as she can. When a woman mentions gray hair to me, I don't hesitate to advise the use of a restorer and I recommend sage tea and sulphur.

A brew of common garden sage, when properly combined with sulphur, restores gray hair to its original color, lustre and beauty. So perfectly does it do the work that its use is undetectable. You may either prepare the mixture at home or buy it already prepared and ready to use. Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur is the name of the prepared article and it costs only 75c a bottle at druggists. Hence there's no need of your bothering to prepare the mixture yourself.

You simply moisten a comb or soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, one strand at a time. The very first application banishes the gray and one or two more sees the hair beautifully restored to its original life and color. One would be surprised if she or he knew of the thousands who use this preparation.

GUESSERS PREDICT STORMY MARCH 4

Law Of Averages Would Bring Unfavorable Inaugural Weather

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Out-of-towners planning to attend the inaugural ceremonies March 4 had better include red flannels, overcoats, and umbrellas in their wardrobes.

For, despite the deather bureau's insistence that January prophesies of March weather are pure buncombe, the long-range prognosticators and almanac prophets already are at work with their warnings, and they promise clouds and storms as mother nature's contribution to the day.

If it it's only a guess, it is a good one for the record of inaugural weather reads like an inside story of heavenly retribution.

The first inaugural March 4 ever recorded by the Weather Bureau was in 1873, Grant's second term, when the mercury dropped to 4 degrees.

In 1877, the Hayes inauguration, there was a sprinkle of rain.

In 1881, when Garfield was sworn in, there was more rain. There was favorable weather in 1885, the first Cleveland ceremony. Benjamin Harrison was greeted with a cloudburst in 1889.

Cleveland's second inauguration in 1893 was enhanced by a full inch of snowfall and a temperature of 24 degrees. The gods were kind, once more in 1897, McKinley's first inaugural.

Year of the Deluge

It was McKinley's second inauguration, however, in 1901 that brought the greatest atmospheric tragedy of the entire list, establishing the Weather Bureau which for days had predicted "fair and warmer" as a joke target that persists to this day.

Just as the presidential party started up Pennsylvania Avenue at the head of the parade, the deluge started.

Roosevelt's inauguration in 1905 was marked by deep slush, resulting from melting snow of March 1 and 2, and President Taft rode up Pennsylvania Avenue in 1909 through ten inches of snow, in the midst of a blinding storm.

Wilson's first march in 1913 was dampened by a trace of rain, and his second, in 1917, was in the course of a heavy storm. The precipitation recorded for that day was nearly one and one-quarter inches.

The gods smiled on both Harding in 1921 and Coolidge in 1925, although in the latter case the thermometer might have been higher.

But with two consecutive fair days for the last two administrations, the law of averages bodes ill for Mr. Hoover's big day.

MANY ILLUMINANTS

The bureau of lighthouses says the lighthouses of the United States use kerosene, incandescent oil vapor, acetylene gas, oil gas and electric current for the illuminant, according to various local conditions and requirements. It is believed that the navy uses both electric current and acetylene gas.

Father: don't take "flu" home to the baby
Dr. David says: "Take these two precautions daily"

"Fathers who are out in the crowds, contacting many people every day, are the very ones who should guard most against influenza germs.
"It is not yet clear how such germs are spread or passed on from one to another, but the man who keeps well himself is actually protecting his family too.
"I'm going to prescribe two daily precautions. If you follow them, the chances are you'll be safe.
"First keep a bottle of Mistol handy and use it freely. It is quite harmless but it does protect against influenza germs.
"Mistol is easy to use in the office because of the handy dropper for applying that comes in the package. Tilt the head far back and let the soothing Mistol run down the back of the nose and throat. You'll feel the cleansing effect at once. And if you have a sore throat or touch of a cold, gargle Mistol freely too.
"The second safety measure is as easy as the first. Take a dose of Nujol every night. Nujol keeps the system in good condition.
"Physicians agree that, particularly in times of epidemic, purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable. Many doctors are therefore prescribing Nujol, as in no case does it cause exhaustion or weakening of the system in any way.
"Nujol is as harmless as water. Just a pure natural substance that keeps the system functioning as nature intends it to."
The combination treatment of Mistol and Nujol is a double check against "flu" and colds. Both products are on sale at all druggists, now.

Mothers And Widows May Be Taken To See Cemeteries In France

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Washington Correspondent for The News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—Mothers and widows in New Castle of the deceased sailors, soldiers and marines of the American forces interred in the cemeteries of Europe will be extended the invitation to make a pilgrimage to these cemeteries at the expense of the federal government, if a bill presented to the Senate by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania receives the approval of Congress and the President.

The Reed bill would authorize the President to arrange for pilgrimages to cemeteries in Europe wherein are interred the remains of persons who died in the military or naval forces of the country during the World War. Such pilgrimages would be made by mothers and unmarried widows of the deceased at the expense of the United States.

According to the bill, a United States Gold Star Pilgrimage Bureau would be established by the federal government, a director of which would be appointed by the President.

In the name of the United States, the director would invite mothers and unmarried widows of those buried abroad, to make one pilgrimage to the cemeteries in Europe. These pilgrimages would be made during the period of three years from July 1, 1929 to June 30, 1932.

For the purpose of pilgrimages special passports would be issued by the state department to mothers and widows, and suitable travel documents to those who are aliens, without fee for either document.

Suitable transportation, accommodations, meals, and other necessities would be furnished each mother or widow included in the official pilgrimages for the entire distance traveled at sea and on land and while sojourning in Europe and while en route in the United States, from home to port and from port back home. No such mother or widow, however, would be provided for at government expense for more than a two week period in Europe.

The money to carry out the provisions of the Reed bill would be appropriated from the treasury of the United States.

The bill is now in the committee on military affairs of the Senate.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE TURKEYS' BALLROOM

Up the mountain and up the mountain and up the mountain went Turkey Gobbler.

Stumbling over stones and beating his way through the underbrush, Peter was beginning to wonder if ever the fellow would reach the top. But Gobbler knew his way and took a sudden turn to the left.

Spread before the boy and his steed was a clearing that was just as flat as though it had been in the plains instead of upon the mountainside. It was as bare as the boy's hand, too, not a blade of grass to be seen, but Peter, peering down, saw that it was hard, as if it had been trampled down by many feet. Before he had time to ask Turkey Gobbler about it the bird stopped—for the first time since they had started—and said something that astonished the boy.

"This is the ballroom floor, Boy. My friend described it so well that I know I cannot be mistaken, although I have never been here before.

"Pretty fine, isn't it? It makes me feel like dancing, although my wives always made fun of me—said that I looked as clumsy as Billy the Goat waddling about. For my part, I never could see but that I did as well as any of the gobblers and looked just as graceful, too."

"A ballroom!" repeated Peter, too surprised to pay Gobbler the compliment the bird expected. "The last thing in the world I should ever have expected the turkeys to know anything about! Why, I never even dreamed that they danced. I am sure I have never caught you at it."

"Maybe you did not know what I was doing," remarked Gobbler. "Think a minute; haven't you ever—" He didn't finish.

"Gobble! Gobble! Gobble!" cried a voice close at hand, and "Gobble! Gobble! Gobble!" sounded another, in a different direction. The cry was repeated on all sides.

"Those are my wild friends gobbling me a greeting," cried Turkey Gobbler, excitedly. Thereupon Gobbler, himself, began to make a great to-do, using his voice lustily, spreading his wings and leaping about in a way that made the boy think his friend had gone crazy. Peter was almost tempted to jump off the fellow's back when something happened that made the boy decide to stay right where he was.

THEY HOPPED UP TO THE AIR AND DROPPED DOWN PLUMP!

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

WORTH IT.

Experts from the department of commerce figure that folks in the United States spent five billion dollars on Christmas shopping. Perhaps it was a few million one way or the other. What is a million or two among friends? And we are all friendly at Christmas time. The spending was a good thing. It put a lot of money in circulation, helped everybody, added to the general prosperity. As to the kindly Christmas spirit, how do you feel about that today? Does the glow last.

FAITH.

Faith keeps you going even when the facts are against you. Fosdick, one of the soundest and straightest thinkers of the day says: "How to keep one's heart in the midst of life's stress and to maintain an undiscourageable front in the fact of its difficulties is not an achievement which springs from anything that a laboratory can demonstrate or logic can affirm. It is an achievement of faith."

Faith does not call upon us to believe incredible things but faith gives us the courage and hope to believe that a proper and intelligent adjustment to the facts of life will bring a better day.

WEATHER INSIDE.

You have the makings of a strong personality if you can carry your own weather. Most of us are dependent on atmosphere. If it is a dark, dull and dreary day we are dark and dreary too. The biggest people carry their own scenery. Sings Edna St. Vincent Millay:

Listerine kills 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds

Did you realize that Listerine was so powerful?

Hard to believe, isn't it, when you reflect how pleasant and safe Listerine is?

Yet in repeated tests employing the stubborn B. Typhosus (typhoid) germ, used by the Government to test antiseptics, Listerine killed 200 million in 15 seconds!

Now you can understand why millions use Listerine to check ordinary colds and sore throat—both caused by germs.

Keep a bottle handy and use it daily, especially after exposure to germ-laden crowds. It helps you ward off trouble.

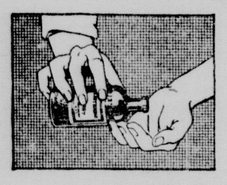
What a funny way to escape a cold



Countless colds start when germs are carried to the mouth on food. By using Listerine on the hands before every meal, you attack such germs and lessen the risk of cold. Remember this, mothers, when handling baby's food

VANITY - - - - - - - - - By Laird

"Vanity, vanity, all is vanity," says the Bible cynic. Maybe. True it is that all that lives must die—lovely face, lustrous hair, gowns and jewels that enhance all this loveliness. But while it lives it makes the world brighter and more worth living. And as to the ordinary or garden type of vanity—such as, of course, the vanity of woman—the vanity which causes her to spend much time gazing at her lovely reflection in the mirror, what is it, after all, but Nature working to make her aware of her power to charm her mate? Is it different from the power that makes the rose bloom its brightest to attract the bee? This vanity is harmless and it is constantly used by Dan Cupid, that arch conspirator whose only business in life is to entangle hearts and lead them captive to the altar.

War Time Letters Written By Col. Leasure While In Service In Civil War

A short, dark man, his mouth encircling a fat cigar, stared moodily out of the army headquarters window in a mid-western town. All afternoon he had been teaching farm hands that, after all, there is some difference between the left foot and the right. All afternoon he had been putting them through the school of the soldier while he waited for orders from Washington: order which would mean active service in this second American Revolution.

He had seen action in the Mexican war: he had been present when Mexico City was captured, but, several years before, in a California town, his immediate superior had requested his resignation, politely of course, for he did not believe that prolonged whiskey jags were fitting to "an officer and a gentleman."

At West Point the officer had been somewhat of a failure: in the Mexican war he had been a failure, and after he had discharged himself from the service, he had become even more of a failure. At times his little family was in danger of immediate starvation. Then the war of rebellion came along, and he offered himself to the state militia. He was put to drilling raw recruits.

As he moodily stared out of that window in army headquarters in that little mid-western town, Ulysses Simpson Grant wondered when orders would come, calling him for active service.

The Union forces were about ready to land at Port Royal, S. C., on December 5, 1861. According to the journal of Col. Daniel Leasure the command to disembark the troops came on the evening November 5.

"Steamer Ocean Queen,
"Port Royal Entrance,
"November 6, 1861.

"I resume my journal where I left it off yesterday (Wednesday) when ordered to disembark my command.

"We followed our file leader, the Vanderbilt, into the mouth of the entrance of the harbor, when all of us came to anchor again. The Wabash, which led off so gallantly, also came to anchor, and here we lay until morning.

"I had orders to disembark my 1,400 men off the ship in seven little surf boats, and find my own crews, having one regular surfman to each boat. Cochran Leslie and Quartermaster Sergeant Stranger are my aides to carry orders.

"The enemy has been busy with his boats in bringing troops from Charleston and Savannah all day yesterday and last night, and this morning we observe a large battery put up during the night. They are making a great mistake in putting so many men on an island (for it is an island) with so little transportation to get them off if they should be worsted.

"November 7, 1861.

"We are really going to disembark at last. We land on Trenches' Island, near Hilton Head, and from thence we will make our inland approaches. Jimmie Smith died this morning about 9 o'clock. Poor boy, his burial was in the sea, for we had not yet conquered even a grave upon the shore of this recusent state. Still, even the sea will yield up its burial treasures.

"Captain Newberry himself took me ashore in the whale boat. At breakfast I made a brief speech to the officers and explained to them the mode of attack, leaving as little as possible to be ordered after we got a footing.

"Two o'clock p. m. I went aloft with my glasses and saw the first gun fired at 25 minutes to 10 o'clock. It was fired from the enemy's battery on Hilton Head. It was answered by the Wabash and then followed shots thick and fast from both sides. The battery on the right hand shore also opened up on us, but its shots fell far short.

"Hilton Head, the left point, was the object of our attention, and vessel after vessel ranged with battleships and shot and shell rained thick as hail upon the shore. The enemy was entrenched on the skirts of woods along the island shore, but shells dropped all over the head of the island. Several times the Wabash and the Minnesota hauled off to repair damages, but soon came up to the scratch again.

"The batteries on Hilton Head were well served and fought with the desperation of despair. Sometimes the batteries seemed literally to be filled with bursting shells, and round shots tore up the earth all around them and in them, but still they fought on. When the action opened four secession boats came out to take part in the affair, but one of them got blown to atoms and captured, and the others backed out faster than they came in.

"Four o'clock p. m. Glory to God! The Stars Spangled Banner floats in triumph from Hilton Head.

"A little bit of a gunboat with only one gun on its stern lay up close to the great battery on one side and did awful execution and when the fire from our ships became like literal hell, the enemy broke for his boats on the other side of the island and the little boat (the Mercury) sent out a small boat and a flag and ran it up.

"I do not know the loss on our ships, but as yet they do not seem to be crippled. I think we are comparatively uninjured. Yet before the firing ceased General Stevens came on board and told me that he relied on my Roundheads as his sheet anchor. The enemy must have been cut up awfully, for he left in such a hurry as to leave everything, even his wounded, which were placed in and around a farm house on which a hospital flag was hoisted, over the Stars and Stripes, with a white flag in front, appealing to our humanity, and at once our firing ceased.

"Our troops began to land immediately and take possession, but it is now just night and not one-third of even the first brigade to land has got on shore yet.

"Seven p. m. Dr. Luddington, my surgeon, and Dr. White have just returned from a visit to Hilton Head. They say that the enemy retreated so precipitably as not even to take time to spike their guns. They left everything: great stores of arms of all sorts and piles upon piles of ammunition. The officers' quarters with all their personal baggage were left open as if their late occupants had just stepped out for a moment.

"I have got 450 men on board the Queen today and tonight the first battalion of the 50th has joined its part in this ship to wait for boats to disembark them.

"In addition to the sailors on board the Ocean Queen, I sent 30 of my men to man the surf boats to land Wright's brigade first.

"Our troops continue landing, but I do not think our time will come until morning. While watching the cannonading today through my glasses, I saw a shot strike one of their largest guns and just send it end over end backwards, raising it about 15 feet in the air.

"I doubt if the history of war can produce a parallel for scientific gunnery, where naval attack so completely smashed up a land fortification after five hours' firing.

"Well, we are finally established on the rebellious soil of South Carolina. Yesterday I sent two companies out to make a tour of the island and they returned after dark reporting every white citizen off the island and onto the mainland. Nothing but slaves are left, who are coming in rapidly.

"The place is one of tremendous natural strength and fearfully fortified in the most scientific manner. The rebels took panic so suddenly that although their heavy cannons were loaded and primed, they did not take time to fire them off, let alone spike them.

"They did not spike one gun, and the further they got away from the fort, which by the way is called Fort Walker, the worse they got scared and the more things they threw away. Knapsacks, haversacks, overcoats, guns, pistols, swords, bottles of whiskey, baskets of champagne, blankets, shoes, et cetera.

"Today I sent Major Lecy in command of three companies, Sherlock's, Squire's and Brower's, to forage and bring in cattle, horses, mules, carts, wagons and all the spoils that they can lay their hands on. The people in this section are all flying inland.

"We are encamped with the eighth Michigan and the 50th Pennsylvania regimnets on an old cotton field with a new cotton field in our front. We are busily engaged in fortifying and improving this point.

"I am about getting permission to send Rev. Brown, Adjutant Powers and Sergt. Stranger home to recruit for the regiment.

"Harvey Tidball has resigned his commission of second lieutenant in Captain Squire's company and John S. Pomeroy has been elected in his place. I am glad the company has elected him.

"The first brigade embarks in a day or two on another expedition. Ours and the third remain to finish and to hold this point.

MANY HORSES EMPLOYED

England's great railway companies employ 19,398 horses, all except 1,000 being used in haulage work. They own about 33,000 horse-drawn vehicles, as compared with only 2,501 motor vehicles for transporting goods.

burnt sugar ADDED to gravies

Philadelphia woman gives recipe popular with men

A PHILADELPHIA woman runs a restaurant that is very popular with men at lunch and dinner time. Asked about her delicious brown gravies, she gave the following recipe: Burn one-fourth cup of granulated sugar in a cheap tin pan. When the sugar is hot and black pour a cup of water over it. The black liquor in small quantities is a wonderful color for sauces and "pale" gravies. Keep a bottle of it on hand. Use a cheap pan, as charred sugar is hard to remove.

No other ingredient adds so much to the enjoyment of other foods as sugar. Sugar is perfection as a condiment. Tasteful, delicious cookery revolves around sugar. Sugar is the inexpensive food, and to be well nourished is necessary to health

Medical authorities are issuing warnings about the dangers of starvation diets. Too much reducing often results in permanent injuries. To be undernourished is to place yourself at the mercy of diseases such as typhoid, pneumonia, influenza and colds. "Keep children and young people well nourished and up to weight," says a famous doctor, as a guard against tuberculosis.

Eat healthful foods. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

Celebrate Anniversary Of National Enactment Of Eighteenth Amendment

Celebration of the anniversary of the enactment of the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States, Tuesday in the First Presbyterian church of this city, sponsored by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Lawrence county, was marked by a splendid spirit of optimism in the faith of the American people that this amendment would never be annulled and that this nation will lead all other nations of the world in this great victory of prohibition.

The celebration was in the form of a victory luncheon which has been the custom of the county W. C. T. U. to conduct every year since the amendment went into effect. The menu was served in the church dining room at attractively arranged tables, by the Helena auxiliary. A color scheme of dresden blue and white and blue tapers in crystal holders was carried out in the decorations making a very beautiful effect.

About 120 Present.

Covers were laid for about 120, including W. C. T. U. women, ministers, judges, lawyers and others interested in the cause of temperance.

The president of Lawrence county W. C. T. U., Miss Margaret S. Walker of Pulaski, presided and introduced the several speakers. Among those sitting at the speakers' table were Judge R. L. Hildebrand, Judge James A. Chambers, Mayor W. H. Gillespie, Robert M. Strickler, Jr., Attorneys Walter Braham, Clarence A. Patterson and Orville Brown, Rev. and Mrs. Ross Haverfield. The invocation was given by Rev. Claude Downs, pastor of the Savannah Methodist church.

The principal speakers of the afternoon were Attorney Charles R. Davis of this city and Dr. C. J. Williamson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church. Both speakers gave most eloquent and forceful addresses on subjects relative to the enforcement of law ond other moral issues of the country.

Battle of Ballots.

Mr. Davis spoke on the theme "The Battle of the Ballots". He began his address by saying that when he was nine years old he joined the juvenile order known as the Loyal Legion and since that time he had been a consistent follower of the temperance cause. He said that although a great victory had been won there was still much work to be accomplished before liquor was entirely banished from the nation.

In speaking of the 18th amendment Mr. Davis declared that no other amendment to the constitution had been given the support that this one had, 46 of the 48 states ratifying it. Rhode Island, the smallest state in the Union, refused to ratify this amendment, but never in a single instance has this state ratified a single amendment to the constitution.

The speaker compared the condition of the United States before prohibition was gained and the country today. Before the amendment was passed there was a great cry that millions would be out of work, hotels would be ruined and factories idle. But there has been the reverse. The two billion dollars that it cost annually to maintain the saloon was turned into legitimate chanhels and people are more prosperous today than ever before.

Labor unions are not clamoring for the return of the saloon, the attorney declared. Of the 108 societies of the labor field two-thirds of them will not accept members who use intoxicating liquor.

Prohibition is a moral issue. The 18th amendment cannot be modified nor nullified unless by the majority of the people. It was proved in the recent presidential campaign where the American people stand on this question.

In closing, Mr. Davis paid a high tribute to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, that it was the influence of this noble band of grave women that made this nation dry and that the influence of this great nation would reach throughout the world until all other nations abolish the liquor traffic.

Dr. C. J. Williamson Speaks.

Dr. Williamson as the second speaker chose for his subject "America, the Beautiful", his theme being based largely on the song which is taught to the children in the pubiic schools.

Dr. Williamson spoke first of the great strides that had been made in the cause of temperance in the last 100 years. Personally he had seen but one person take an intoxicating drink in the last four years, yet the great metropolitan dailies and a number of writers would infer that there are more people drinking now than ever before. The speaker regretted the fact that so many ministers were lax in taking issue in the recent presidential campaign.

Dr. Williamson very beautifully described the word "America", taking each letter separately and telling what it stood for.

He said "A" stood for appearance. He told of the beauty of the hills in Pennsylvania and the scenery in general but how it was marred by the many bill boards seen along the highways. Napoleon said: "Beyond the Alps lies Italy." In many cases we can say, "Beyond the bill boards lies advertisements for rheumatism of other kindred remedies." The speaker stressed the fact that the American people should see to it that the general landscape should not be so marred.

"M" stands for manhood. Citizenship does not mean physical comfort. The manhood of a nation is marked by its public opinion. People should not be afraid to tell what they think.

"E" is for education. It takes from five to seven thousand dollars to educate a young man or woman until he is 21 years old. All education must have a moral purpose. It fails in its effort if it does not. Education is a failure if it does not teach the student to lead a life of usefulness, purity and helpfulness.

"R" stands for respect of law. Every citizen should be made to respect the laws of this country.

"I" stands for institutions, political, legal and domestic. Two things that man cannot be separated from is the eye of God and his home if it be a good one.

"C" is for children. The goal of America is in her children.

"A" is for attitude toward God. The greatest nations in the world today are the religious nations. The downfall of a nation is due to the irreligious people that compose it. Many men go to church who are anti-American. Jesus Christ chose 12 types of men and was able to mold them all to his own way of thinking with the exception of one.

Dr. Williamson expressed a desire that the American people would select the song "American, the Beautiful" as its national anthem in place of the "Star Spangled Banner". He said the latter song told of war and the other of peace and tranquility and beauty of country.

Dr. Williamson paid a tribute to The New Castle News in its stand on the liquor question and other great moral issues of the day.

Pep singing of a number of temperance songs led by Mrs. W. J. Caldwell and instrumental selections by the girls orchestra of which Miss Bess Brewster is director were outstanding features of the afternoon.

Meet To Discuss Fire Department

New Wilmington Citizens To Form Plans For Improvement; Other News

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 16.—Ten of the college town citizens will meet in the New Wilmington club rooms this evening as members of a local fire-fighting reorganization committee is acting with Fire Chief J. J. Francis in the formulation in planning a department reorganization and a purchase of new equipment.

A chairman of the committee will be elected at the meeting and plans for the work in view will be immediately drawn up. The local men in this group are: Mr. T. O. Hogue, Dr. S. E. Calhoun, James Pitzer, D. H. McQuiston, S. P. Penberthy, W. W. Campbell, Walter A. Schaffer, C. B. White, J. C. Monroe, and Wallace Mercer.

The assistant chief of the local Volunteer department is W. R. Anderson.

Humorous sketches, readings, and recitations featured the assembly program given in the local high school this morning. Among those who took part in the program were: Thomas Rogers, Margaret Weber, William White, Paul Speers, Joseph McClure, Wilbur Schaffer, Darwin Hartwell, and Gertrude Minner.

A pep meeting followed the regular program and it was led by the Wallace twins, Becky and Billy.

One of the most interesting things brought to light in this week's meeting of the local Rotary club was a letter received from the Rotary club of Napir, New Zealand. New Zealand has 20 Rotary organizations and the one at Napir was commissioned to write to the New Wilmington group.

The letter was received by Mr. Howell T.Getty describes the country and climate of New Zealand and tells what chief occupations and industries there are there. The letter was very interesting.

Another high spot of this week's meeting was an address given by Dr. S. A. Kirkbride. This talk won favorable comment from the Rotary members.

Yesterday evening, the social season of the high school reopened in the form of a sled-load which was held by the members of the junior class. The juniors climbed into one big bob-sled and joyfully journey out to the residence of Sarah Dinsmore where refreshments were served.

The sled brought the party back into town later in the evening. The chaperons of the party were: Miss Lucille Beerbower and Miss Ruby Guilliams. Willis McGill is president of the Junior class.

New Wilmington's Mendors club met at the home of Mrs. E. B. Russell yesterday afternoon in a regular meeting.

Transients Seeking Refuge At Mission

Cold Weather Causes Increase In Number Of Callers, Superintendent Says

Numerous "down-and-outers" are being cared for at the City Rescue Mission during the present cold spell, according to the superintendent, Benjamin J. Watkins. "The majority of them seem to be transients," he states.

"We are receiving quite a number of calls for clothing at the present time," the mission superintendent continued. "We have been able to meet their individual needs in every case. A great number of calls have also been received asking for meals and lodging.

"For the past few weeks we have housed on an average of six or seven transients every night. They are given a breakfast in the morning and then, if at all possible, we secure work for them. In cases where we are not able to find temporary employment we give them transportation or money enough to help them on their way. The cold weather and yesterday's heavy snow even drove the men into our office in greater volumes than has been noticed for a few weeks before."

Earl Jones Enters On Prison Term In Murder Conviction

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 16.—Except for a whispered conversation between him and Arthur Bowser, who was on his way to the workhouse for a six-months' stay for violating the liquor laws, Earl Jones, former west-side garage proprietor, maintained the same calm and silence on his way to the penitentiary yesterday that had characterized his stay at the county jail. At no time during the journey did he talk loud enough for Sheriff Mary M. Leslie and Deputy Sheriff S. R. Anderson to hear him.

The condemned man was spirited out of the county jail shortly before noon yesterday, and so successful was the plan of the sheriff and her deputy to avoid the eyes of the curious that not even Deputy Sheriff Joseph S. Daugherty at a late hour yesterday afternoon knew the man who had been convicted for the slaying of his wife last October 19 had departed on his way for prison.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

MRS. NORA BAKER

Day by day new fame and friends are being won by Konjola, the new medicine, as the news of its triumphs in most obstinate cases spreads everywhere. Mrs. Nora Baker, R. R No. 2, Sagertown, Penna., recently made the following statement:

"Both my stomach and kidneys were rundown. Every bite of food caused intense suffering in the way of gas bloating. I was afflicted with kidney ailments that prevented my getting sound sleep at night.

"I dared not give up hope for that would have been fatal. I kept on trying and then I heard about Konjola.

"My stomach and kidneys improved and the various symptoms became fainter and fainter. My stomach was restored to healthy activity. What a blessing. Konjola soon strengthened my kidneys. That is what Konjola has done for me and will do for all sufferers. Of that I am sure. May this statement be the means for others to profit from my experience."

Konjola is sold in New Castle, Pa., at the Love & Megown drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Less Than Half Of County Dogs Have Licenses

Prosecutions Of Owners Will Start Immediately In County

Slightly More Than 3,000 Licenses Issued At Court House

According to the report from the county treasurer's office at the courthouse, half of the dogs in Lawrence county have been licensed, states J. Wylie Brewster of the State Bureau of Animal Industry. Some 3,000 dogs have been licensed thus far.

Comparing these figures with those of last year, it is found that this is much less than half. The number of licenses in 1928 was 6,744.

Mr. Brewster, who has charge of this branch of the State Department of Animal Industry, states that licenses may be procured throughout the entire year, of course, but that legally all dogs over six months of age January 15 should have been licensed.

Prosecutions of owners who have failed to license their dogs will begin immediately, states Mr. Brewster.

ORIGIN OF "HANDICAP"

In the Middle ages, when a race was to be run, the contestants drew lots for positions by taking straws from a hat. This process was known in the vernacular of the day as "hand-in-the-cap". Today we have the word "handicap."

It is dishonest to get your plots from recent publications. Take them from Dumas as the great writers do.

Have Leading Roles In Senior High Play

MILDRED SNECKENBERGER.

Miss Mildred Sneckenberger plays opposite Joe Pearson in the role of Angela Smythe. She serves as a foil for the poor, crude little "Brat" who suddenly finds herself among those charming Forresters and their equally charming friends. Angela must be a lovely, finished product of generations to whom social advantages have been a birthrite. She must, however be altogether loveable as well as lovely for her fiance of that scion of a roble line, MacMillan Forrester. If a high schol girl should set out to describe the kind of part she would like in a play the role of Angela would just match the description. Miss Sneckenberger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sneckenberger of Emerson avenue.

JOE PEARSON

Joe Pearson as MacMillan Forrester plays the leading role in the senior class play, "The Brat." "Mack" is the young author in the plot whose social experience is limited to people of wealth, leisure and refinement. Since he aspires to realism in his writings he goes to the slums to become acquainted with the people whom he has never known but whom he wishes to put into his books. It is thus that he discovers "the Brat." The part of "Mack" calls for throuogh familiarity with the ways of the "smart set" and a humorous appreciation of its many absurdities, together with a kind of impractical idealism. "Joe" is interpreting this difficult role very well indeed and creates much comedy seemingly without intending it. Mr. Pearson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Pearson of Moody avenue.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Legislature Will Determine Tax

Governor Fisher's Budget Message Will Present Situation

HIGHWAY PLANS TO BE CONSIDERED

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16. — When the budget message of Governor Fisher is presented to the legislature it will consider the State's fiscal condition "as is." The picture will be laid before the lawmakers for their consideration. Whether taxes are to be reduced, increased or shifted about will be entirely in the hands of the General Assembly the governor's office indicates.

In his address at the opening of the legislature Governor Fisher discussed the possibility of the repeal of the anthracite coal tax. The budget when it is presented will assume that the coal tax will remain on the books and also that the third cent of the gasoline tax will be made permanent or at least continued for a two year period.

The matter of abolishing the coal tax will be entirely left to the legislature. If they decide to take that levy off the statute books allowance must be made when appropriations are made or else substitute additional revenue. Governor Fisher made that point clear in his message.

Highway financing will be an important question. The Pennsylvania Motor Federation which two years ago opposed the increase in the gas tax now says there is no objection to retaining the three cent levy. The highway budget as prepared for the next biennium is based on revenues as they now are. Whether the revenues for road construction are to be increased depends also on the legislature. As matters stand at present those close to the administration will not say whether any increases in highway monies are to be recommended. With the governor favoring State aid in maintaining city streets that form parts of trunk routes and also the State to take over county bridges it is felt that additional funds must be forthcoming to carry on road construction.

The girls of the home economics department of the Senior High school served a delicious dinner for six on Tuesday afternoon in the model dining room of the department.

The girls did the planning, cooking, buying and serving for this occasion. The elementary supervisors of local schools were those whom the delicious dinner was served to.

KILL FLU GERMS BEFORE THEY KILL YOU

When flu germs get into your system they start right in to kill you if they can.

So it's up to you to kill them before they kill you.

You can't kill them with quinine or cough drops or hot lemonade or with cathartics.

But you can kill flu germs with Fluin—and kill them quick.

Keep that fact in mind—it may save your life or the life of one dear to you.

Fluin should be in your home all the time—it is the one supremely reliable remedy for influenza.

Fluin is the one remedy that really does destroy the germs of flu—it is antitoxic and antibacterial and that's what is needed to fight the flu.

Thousands of European doctors prescribe Fluin for heavy colds and the flu—keep some handy—a vial of 10 tablets for 50 cents at McKee's Kut Rate Store or any real drug-store.

Ellwood High Wins Over Beaver Falls Quintet

Fast Game With Valley Teams Results In Close Victory Of 21-20

Girls' Team Lose Their Preliminary Game With Valley Lassies, 8-31

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 16. — Splitting a twin bill was the result of a double basketball attraction last night at Beaver Falls between Ellwood City and Beaver Falls, with Ellwood winning the boys contest by a close margin of 21-20, and Coach Sara McGoun's sextet losing the preliminary 31-8. The Tubers staged a rally in the last five minutes of play, to cop the victory in the boys' game.

Ellwood High's floor team smarting from a defeat received by the lads of Butler last week, was determined to win. Peck Lee's quint looked poor at the end of the first half with the Tigers leading 14 to 7. Hopes for a win seemed dark for the blue and white and only a fierce onslaught which backed both speed and brilliant performance enabled the Tubers to win the battle.

With only a short time to play, Dunn brought the contest to a deadlock with a pretty shot. Justine failed to break the tie, when given a foul but another similar opportunity given to Lawrence, cinched the contest as he broke the tie by shooting the point from the line. This single tally won the fray, for the whistle soon brought it to a close.

Justine and Dunn lead the blue and white's attack, the former leading the scoring by caging three goals and two fouls, while Dunn shot two baskets and tossed one in via the foul route. Friedoff, King and Ursu each sank one goal and Lawrence, who replaced King, shot the winning marker, making him one of the outstanding performers of the game.

Hendrickson was the leading ace for the Tigers. His superb playing was one of the features of the evening. Four goals and three fouls were collected by him. He was a continual menace to the blue and white and pierced his way through the opponents' defense time after time. Haggart also played a fine game, giving his mate first class support.

In the preliminary the Ellwood Lassies were swamped by the Beaver Falls maidens, as the latter romped away with a 31-8 victory. Coach McGoun's sextet seemed helpless from the strong attack of the Valley girls. Thompson was the star performer for the blue and white sextet, scoring all of the points for her team. Blazin assisted her during the first part of the fray, but she was later replaced by Offutt.

Dabroski and Altnyer were high scorers for the Valley girls and lead their mates to victory. These two made a real combination and rolled up the pointers for their colors. This was the second W. P. I. A. L. contest in which Ellwood City has taken part. The Tubers lost the first when they met Butler last Friday.

Lineup:

Ellwood City		Beaver Falls
Friedoff	F	Garda
King	F	Stewart

Evangelist Tells Of Foundations

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 16.—A large crowd attended the services on Tuesday evening in the First Christian church and enjoyed a sermon by Rev. Walker on "Sand Foundations." The theme was based on the story of the two builders as told in the sermon on the Mount. Rev. Walker said in part: "We are all builders for time and eternity. The testing time will come in each life. Those who live for God are building on the rock of ages. Many are building on sand by ignoring the gift of God's love.

An inspirational song service preceded the sermon and was featured by a solo by Ted Jones "Will Your Heart Ring True."

Tonight Rev. Walker will preach on "The Lost and Found" and will illustrate his points with a large chart.

Baptism of infants will take place at the close of the service.

At 7 Ted Jones will show steriopticon views on the Life of Christ.

FLU EPIDEMIC NOW SWEEPING WHOLE COUNTRY

Is Milder Than in 1918, But Emergency Demand for Vicks Breaks All Records.

The influenza epidemic which broke out late in October on the Pacific coast has spread with startling rapidity until now practically every section of the country is affected.

Although the flu itself is not so serious as in 1918, authorities stress the importance of taking every possible precaution for fear of the complications which invade the weakened system after a flu attack.

They urge especially prompt treatment of every cold, as colds lower the body resistance and make it easier for germs of flu or pneumonia to get a foothold.

That the public is heeding this warning is indicated by the phenomenal demand for Vicks VapoRub, the famous external treatment which leaped to fame almost overnight during the 1918 epidemic.

In spite of tripled capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day to meet the emergency, and more than 375,000 jars are now being produced every 24 hours.

Dr. Chauncey McCandless, Son Of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCandless Accepts State Work

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 16.—J. A. McCandless of Fourth street returned yesterday from witnessing the inaugural ceremonies of the governor of Ohio at Columbus. With him he proudly brought the news that his son Chauncey McCandless, prominent veterinary surgeon of Salem, has been appointed State veterinarian with headquarters in Columbus. The appointment was made by Perry L. Green of Hiram, recently appointed state director of agriculture.

Dr. McCandless was born in Butler county November 11, 1892, and was educated in the public schools, graduating from the local high school. In 1915 he graduated from the Chicago Veterinary college. He also took special studies in veterinary medicine in the Indiana Veterinary college and College of Veterinary medicine in the University of Pennsylvania.

He resided in Ellwood City some time ago with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCandless. He enlisted in the World war, serving on the battle fields of France. He is a member of the American Legion and the First Presbyterian church of Salem, where he resided with his wife and daughter until the recent appointment, which necessitated his moving to Columbus. While a comparatively young man, the appointment is a great honor, as there were forty-five applicants for the position. Mr. and Mrs. McCandless are receiving congratulations from their many friends, on their son's success.

Series Of Services At Croton M. E. Church

Evangelistic Meetings To Begin Sunday, January 20, And Continue Until February 3

Arrangements have been completed for a series of meetings of two weeks duration to follow the visitation campaign of last week, to be held in the Croton avenue Methodist Episcopal church beginning Sunday morning next.

At 10:45 a. m., following the Sunday school hour, the pastor, Rev. Charles C. Mohney, will begin with a special address on the subject, "What Is a Revival of Pure Religion"? following which baptism will be administered to adult persons and a class of more than 100 persons will be received into the church. In the evening at 7:30 Rev. F. S. Neigh, superintendent of New Castle district, will be the preacher.

Beginning Monday, and continuing each night during the week except Saturday, the pastor will show stereopticon views in the life of Christ and other Bible events for half an hour, beginning promptly at 7:15. At 7:45 the song service will begin, in charge of Mrs. June Bernard, with a lively song service for everybody who enjoys singing the old-time and new-time songs of the gospel, following which the pastor will preach, discussing such gospel themes as are intended to lead the individual out into acceptance of redemptive grace and the edification of those who are already Christian believers.

There will be used at times such charts and drawings as are practical in the visualization of Bible truth that sometimes is neglected, yet very essential to a full rounded knowledge of God's plan of redemption as revealed in the Holy Scriptures.

School Building Destroyed By Fire In Butler County

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 16.—Two schoolhouses were destroyed by fire in Butler county during the past twenty-four hours, it was reported today to John T. Connell, county superintendent of schools.

The Sun school in Clinton township, of which Miss Mary Bartmas was teacher, became ignited some time yesterday afternoon while school was in session and burned to the ground.

Teacher and pupils succeeded in carrying out most of the movable property of the building, but without ladders and fire fighting equipment were unable to combat the fire itself. Loss about $4500.

The Gravat school in Winfield township, of which Miss Alma Denny of that vicinity was the teacher, burned some time during the night, and the loss discovered this morning. It also was of frame construction, and erected about thirty years ago, it is understood, being considerably older than the Clinton township building. Nevertheless it will doubtless cost about as much to replace it with a new building as the Clinton township building.

A Strange Interview

To one who is not a native of these United States, and to one who must travel among natives and subject himself to all sorts of dialects, this American language is queer and many times confusing. No matter what the nationality is, persons not born within the jurisdiction of the U. S. Marine corps never lose an eternal wonderment at the strange idiomatic expressions used by even then most polished exemplars of the homo Americanus.

So it is with Senor Jose Echaniz, the pianist who pleased the local Civic Music association with his skill Tuesday evening. Although he has more than a superficial knowledge of the language, garnered from text books, yet he is alternately dumfounded and elated with the American language.

This morning he was eating his breakfast, and your subscriber mentioned that he always worked for an hour or so before he breakfasted. "Such a custom!" fairly shouted Senor Echaniz. "And why would you call it? In Spanish we have one word that just fits, but in English, what would that word be? "Both the reporter and Herbert Peairs, president of the Civic Music association climbed through their mental dictionaries, but the word eluded them. And so they concluded that there is no single word expressive of the fact that one works before breakfast.

Outside of his actual concerts, Senor Echaniz abhors to talk shop. Perhaps he tires of it all, for no doubt he is pressed on all hands in some cities, by women who want to know his views on this, and that, and the other thing. And Senor Echaniz, although he is a deep student, does not like to afflict his views on other people. His theories are his own, and he lets it go at that.

And so, instead of being interviewed this morning by a reporter, Senor Echaniz was the interviewer, trying his best to find out the language, customs and habits of the fauna which inhabit the United States from a reporter and an executive. And now, since he interviewed instead of being interviewed, he must hold very peculiar notions of the some 120,000,000 people who live within the immediate confines of the country.

Still Many Dogs Without Licenses

County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley reports that 3388 dog licenses have been issued to-date and five kennel licenses. This is around 2000 less than last year, indicating that there is a large number of dog owners who have failed to secure their licenses within the specified time.

Licenses can still be secured but there is now nothing to prevent state authorities killing dogs found without licenses.

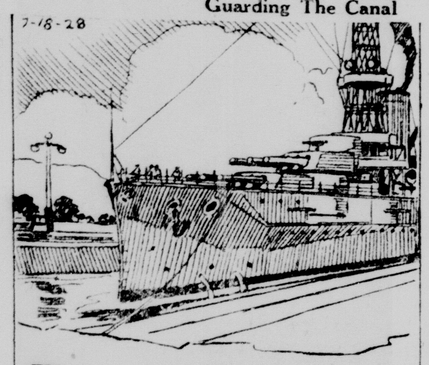
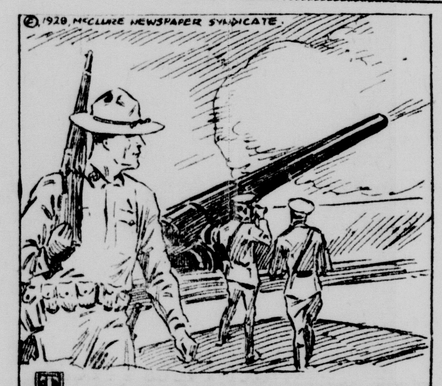
The Story Of The Panama Canal—Part 21
Guarding The Canal



THE CHIEF OBJECT OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IN CONSTRUCTING THE PANAMA CANAL WAS TO ENABLE A SINGLE FLEET OF WAR-SHIPS TO GUARD BOTH OUR ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC COASTS.

THE CANAL ZONE WAS MADE A MILITARY RESERVATION UNDER A GOVERNOR, WHO REPORTS TO THE PRESIDENT THROUGH THE WAR DEPARTMENT. THE CANAL ZONE BELONGS TO THE GOVERNMENT, AND THOUGH A PRIVATE INDIVIDUAL CAN LEASE GROUND THERE, HE CAN NEVER OWN IT.



THE ENTRANCES TO THE CANAL ARE GUARDED BY MIGHTY FORTS AND BATTERIES, WHILE THE MILITARY POPULATION NUMBERS ABOUT 10,000 SOLDIERS. THE LARGEST OF THE DEFENCES IS FORT AMADOR, OCCUPYING 25 ACRES ON THE PACIFIC BREAKWATER.

THERE IS A SUBMARINE BASE, AS WELL AS LANDING FIELD AND HANGARS FOR AIRPLANES. THE ZONE ALSO BOASTS A POWERFUL RADIO STATION. A FEW YEARS AGO THE GOVERNMENT CHARGED OFF $112,662,732.60 OF THE TOTAL COST OF BUILDING THE CANAL TO NATIONAL DEFENCE.

Delehunty And Rice Stars For Titans As Westminster Noses Out Allegheny

ALLECHENY TEAM IS IMPRESSIVE

(Special To The News)

MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 16. — The Westminster Titans nosed out Allegheny College here last night, at Montgomery gym, by a score of 27 to 26 in one of the most thrilling games to be played at the local floor in recent years. The result was in doubt until the final whistle.

The Westminster quintet went into the lead in the first quarter and by playing a snappy brand of basketball led at the first half 15 to 10. The Allegheny team came to life in the second half and outscored the Titans 16 to 12. Garback and Dennison two young first-year men at Allegheny led the attack for the Methodists with four baskets apiece. Berger and Mills also played a good game for Allegheny.

Delehunty-Rice Stars

The playing of Delehunty and Rice was the big feature for Westminster, the formidable "Kenny" caging three buckets and Phil Rice former Duquesne High star sinking a like number. W. Lewis a substitute for Kocheran was also good last night caging two baskets. T. Lewis and Ayers played fine guarding games for Westminster.

Montgomery gym was packed to capacity strength for the tilt, and before the game was over the fans were hanging onto their seats in breathless fashion. It sure was some mean game of basketball and the Titans proved themselves first class under fire. The Allegheny team deserves plenty of credit for the showing made in the absence of Captain "Granny" Bair.

Andy McDonald, Westminster graduate manager, paid the Allegheny team a fine compliment today, by saying that they gave the Westminster team all they desired in the way of thrills, etc.

The summary:

Westminster 27		Allegheny 26
O'Donovan	F	Dennison
Delehunty	F	Mills
Rice	C	Conn
T. Lewis	G	Garback
Ayers	G	Berger

Subs:—Westminster; Kocheran for Delehunty, W. Lewis for Kocheran, Crowell for Rice, Fisher for Ayers, Ciesyski for Lewis. Allegheny;—Massing for Mills, Lane for Massing, Moon for Conn. Steel Mill Men Stage Frolic At Armory Tuesday

Basketball, Shuffel, Checkers And Bingo Played During Evening; Spark Plugs Win

The steam and efficiency department of the Carnegie steel mill held their monthly frolic at the Armory hall on Neshannock avenue on Tuesday night. The event was a most successful one and thoroughly enjoyed by all who participated.

Games of shuffel, checkers, bingo and basketball were played during the evening. In the floor game between the Spark Plugs and Rinky Dinks the Plugs set a fast and furious pace and upset the Dinks by a score of 43 to 29. Mitchell, the former Titusville star, and Mills were the big guns for the winners. Jarrett and Hawk played the best brand of basketball for the Dinks.

"Hinnie", a Dink player, pulled the feature play of the evening when, emulating the New Year's day stunt by Ray Riegels of California, he shot a basket for the Spark Plugs and thus Riegels is not the only "goat". "Hinnie" was very much upset following his act of charity.

Jack Hitchen, Teddy Rhodes and Dave Leishman, the South Side songbirds, rendered several pleasing numbers. The boys sure can warble some, and their efforts were enjoyed. Jack Oberleitner proved himself the sausage king of the evening. Scott Tully was a guest of the evening.

Following the games a lunch was served and everyone felt that it was an evening worthwhile spent.

Battling Levinsky Retires From Ring

Veteran Battler Quits After Poor Showing In Recent Bouts

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Battling Levinsky, the "Old Master" as he was known among those who followed him through some 400 battles announced his retirement today.

Levinsky's decision came following a one-round knockout at Hagerstown, Md., last night by Herman Weiner, a novice from Baltimore whom he had beaten a week ago. He had previously made such a poor showing with Otto Von Porat in Grand Rapids, Mich., that the bout was called no contest in the fifth round.

Levinsky's ring career extended over a period of 22 years. He was the first recognized light heavyweight champion of the world losing the title to Gene Tunney in 1923. He met some of the best men in the world his opponents including Jack Dempsey, Carpentier, McTigue, Renault, Morris and hundreds of others.

"I'm through," Levinsky said in announcing his retirement. "I've fought two fights too many. I always did my best but my best was not good enough in my last two fights.

"There is an old saying that a fighter is a bum when he starts and a bum when he finishes. I will stay a spectator from now. No more come-backs for me."

Business College Quintet Victors

The New Castle Business College basketball team defeated the Harlansburg Indies last night at Harlansburg by a score of 18 to 15.

At the end of the first half the Indies were ahead, 9 to 7, but fine work by Babosky and Spencer gave the New Castle team an advantage in the closing moments of the game. Spencer, Goodhart and Babosky were the best for the Business College, with Lewellyn and Turner the feature players for the Harlansburg team.

The summary:

Business College		Harlansburg

Lincolns To Battle Shelby Tube Quintet

Lincolns To Meet Ellwood City Team Tonight Instead Of Franklin "Y." Five

Preliminaries Remain Same With Temples Vs. Millers, Castles Vs. Sharon

The Lincolns of the City League tonight at the Y. M. C. A. floor will meet the strong Shelby Tube quintet of Ellwood City. The Temple Israel team will meet the Millers of Beaver Falls, and the Castle Five girls will play the Sharon Buhl Club Girls. The first game will start at 8 o'clock.

The Franklin Big 'Y' Five was announced on Wednesday as the opponents to the Lincolns tonight, but owing to a misunderstanding on the part of the Lincoln management, the Shelby Tube team was found to have the Wednesday, January 16th, date here, and for that reason the Franklin game had to be cancelled. The Franklinites will be met here at a later date.

Shelby Team Fast.

The Shelby Tube team will no doubt give the Lincolns a lot of competition tonight. Included in the Shelby lineup is such well known stars as Boone, Hennon and Blythe, of the Wampum Big Five; Patterson formerly with the Castle Five in this city; Walter Sumner former high school star; and Gardner former high school luminary at Greenville. The Ellwoodians are anxious to defeat the fast Lincolns and a good game is expected.

The Lincolns will use Kulich, McClelland, Parker, Jones, Uhle, Gennock, Bruce and Hill in their lineup. The Lincolns have been setting a merry pace here this year and are fighting the Rick Motors for the leadership of the City League.

Girls To Play

The Castle Five girls will meet the Sharon Buhl Club girls in the first game on the program. The local lassies defeated the Sharonites in a recent game at Sharon and are anxious to make it two straight over the strong girls team of Mercer county. The girls contest is attracting quite some attention.

The Temple Israel team of the New Castle Church League will meet the Leslie T. Millers of Beaver Falls. The Millers have a clever team this year, composed almost entirely of ex-high stars and they are out to defeat the well known Temple Israel quintet tonight. The team that upsets the Jewis boys will know that they have been in a basketball game, for the Temples are very generally recognized as one of the fastest junior teams in New Castle and Lawrence county.

Co-ed Water Polo Teams At College

League To Start At Westminster With Opening Of Second Semester

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 16.—Co-ed water polo teams, representing the four classes of the college, will be ready for action early in the second semester, according to Jack Hulme, director of aquatics.

Last year the co-eds of the present sophomore class, had an undefeated team composed of Elizabeth Pollock, captain, Waterford; Elizabeth English, Erie; Dorothy Brown, Bellevue; Lois Davenport, New Castle; Lois Stewart, Homestead, and Gladys Ott, Cochranton. Of this group Miss Ott has dropped out of school.

The junior class team will miss Faith Cooper, Helen Petrie and Billy Graham, none of whom are in school this year. Veterans on the junior outfit include: Jean Boyd, New Wilmington; Elizabeth Work, McDonald; Catherine McClure, Blairsville; Jane McKown, Pittsburgh; Margaret Guy, New Castle, and Ruth Lewis, New Castle.

Little is known of the ability of the freshmen co-eds in the aquatic sport, but it is thought that the first-year girls will have a strong team. The senior class will not have a team.

Falcon Juniors Top Spark Plugs

The Polish Falcon Juniors defeated the Spark Plugs 15 to 14 in a close and exciting game played at the Falcon court on Tuesday evening. The game was one of the best played of the year at the Falcon floor.

The Juniors took an early lead and held an advantage of 11 to 5 at the end of the first half. The Sparks came to life in the second half and staged a rally that nearly proved the undoing of the Juniors. Rowe and Laurel led the attack for the Spark Plugs, with J. Kolodjeski and Dudek the best for the Falcons. On Thursday night the Falcons meet the Rangers at 7:30 o'clock at the Falcon court.

The summary:

Falcon Juniors 15		Sparks 14

Truscon Diamonds Seek Floor Games

The Truscon Diamonds sponsored by the Truscon Steel company of Youngstown, Ohio, have organized again for the 1929 basketball season and desire games with good first teams. The team consists of practically the same players who won the Class A championship of Mahoning county, Ohio, in three out of four years of competition. Among the players is Hawkins, former Pitt star; Cook, of Purdue; Gwillam and Butler, former Newberry College luminaries; Jones, Grove City; McCauley and McLaughlin, former high school stars, and McPhee, of Oberlin.

The Diamonds are especially interested in games in this district where they have appeared before. Any first class teams desiring games are requested to write or call C. McFarland, business manager, at Truscon Steel company, Youngstown, Ohio. Phone 32171, or 103 No. Lee avenue, New Castle, Pa., phone 4293.

Grove City Extends Tourney Invitation To School Quintets

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 16.—Robert E. Thorn, director of athletics at Grove City College, has mailed notices to high schools of Northwestern Pennsylvania, naming the dates of two interscholastic basketball tournaments to be held here in March.

The fourteenth annual Mercer County Tournament will be held March 6, 7, 8 and 9, in Keller gymnasium. For the last two years Sharon has won the annual event. March 15 and 16 Grove City will entertain the tenth annual Northwestern Pennsylvania Tournament, which also has been won for two years by Sharon, the Mercer county entry.

Both events attract many hundreds of visitors to Grove City annually. Last year the Western Pennsylvania eliminations were held here, with Duquesne as the winner. Both the Western Pennsylvania semi-finals and the state play-off will be held this year at Pittsburgh.

Geneva-Westminster Will Battle Friday

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 16. — Ken Loeffler's Gold and White quintet will have its real test of the season next Friday night when it clashes with the undefeated Westminster aggregation, Conference champions of last year. The Covenanter mentor is driving his charges faithfully for the coming tilt, and ardent followers of Geneva's basketball team are extremely hopeful that the Gold and White will hand out a similar lacing to the one it handed out last season when Geneva trounced the champions in the season's finale 27-22.

Coach Loeffler's five has done nothing startling to date, but the team has showed tremendous possibilities in every encounter. Two qualities that have been found lacking are aggressiveness and consistency; two qualities that go together and which are a necessary requisite for any winning team.

Loeffler's men will be the underdog Friday, but the Gold and White Coach feels certain that his men are capable of turning in a victory over the high touted Blue and White outfit from New Wilmington. The probable lineup for the fray will be Friedman and Montgomery at forwards, Hanson at center, Merriman or Emrick and Capt. Emrick at guards.

Athletic Director Edgecombe has announced that tickets will have to be purchased early, for an early sell out is anticipated.

Dreshar Named Tech Captain

Tech Gridders To Make Choice Of Honorary Leader At End Of Next Grid Year

NEW LEADER HAS BEEN FINE PLAYER

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 16.—Appointment of John E. Dreshar, of Irwin, Pa., a sophomore, as captain of next year's varsity football squad at Carnegie Institute of Technology, is announced by athletic authorities. The appointment of Dreshar is the first made under the new plan of having the coaching staff, rather than the squad itself, select the team leader.

Formal action by the Athletic Council in allowing the coaching staff to choose Carnegie gridiron leaders in the future followed a recommendation made by Advisory Coach Walter P. Steffen a year ago. At that time he pointed out the danger of permitting the players themselves to choose a leader who might be the most popular member of the squad but who might not necessarily be endowed with the qualities of leadership on the field of action.

Tenure of office of the appointed captain at Carnegie will be conditional upon the capabilities of the appointee. At any time during the season, the coaches will have the privilege of "demoting" the captain if he fails to make good as the team leader. Another feature in the new plan is that the players will have the privilege of electing an honorary captain at the end of the season.

Dreshar is a center and guard. Last season he earned the distinction of being the best defensive player in the line. He came to Carnegie Tech from Bellefonte Academy where he was a star and served as captain of the Carnegie freshman team of 1927 that went through the season undefeated.

In announcing the appointment of Dreshar as captain 1929, Head Coach Steffen said that the coaches were unanimous in their belief that Dreshar possessed all the necessary qualifications of leadership as well as football intelligence, and natural ability.

Regulars Defeat News Buttercups

The New Castle News office "so-called bowlers" had another interesting session at the McCoy alleys on Tuesday afternoon. The result was not a bit surprising. The News regulars of the City Industrial Bowling clague made "merry' with the Buttercups, a team composed entirely of amateurs. The reason the Buttercups didn't win is because they didn't knock down as many pins as their adversaries.

There is no alibi offered by the losers outside of the fact that the entire Buttercup team was off form and not in condition and many of the players had ailments of one kind and another. The liniment bottle as usual was much in evidence this morning at The News. The "exercise is gone but the aches linger on" or words to that effect. It's a long worm that doesn't turn and bite the hand that feeds it and the Buttercups are after anothr contest with the regulars.

Percy White of the regulars was high man with 176 in the final game of the match. Miles and Burkholder upheld the dignity of the Buttercups, that is, what little there was to uphold.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 16.—W. L. ("Pa") Stribling, Sr., Tuesday afternoon signed a contract for the Stribling-Sharkey fight giving his son, Young Stribling, 20 per cent of the gate receipts.

There was no guarantee. The Madison Square Garden Corporation took an option for Stribling's next fight.

"I'm delighted to get anything," ("Pa") declared after putting his signature to the dotted line. "My son would fight Sharkey for nothing. He's going to knock Sharkey out and go on to the title."

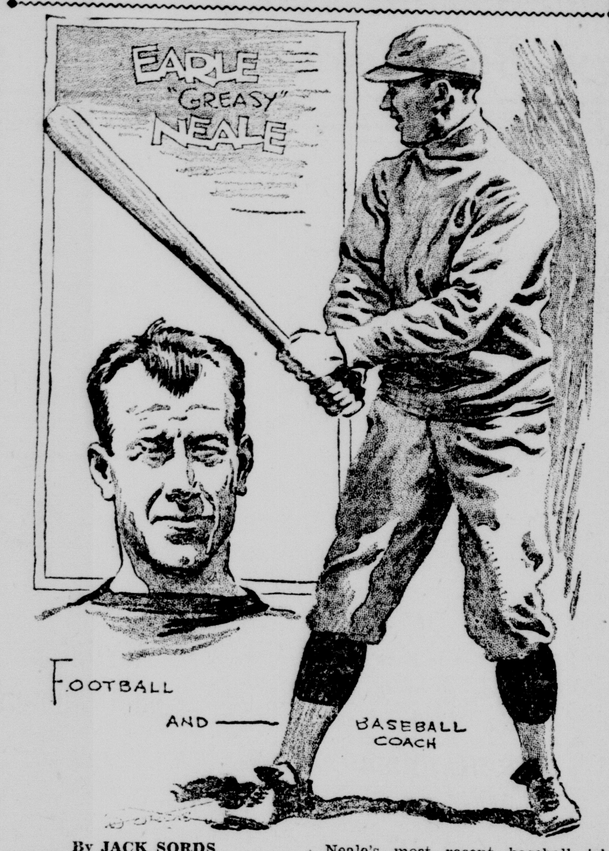
Football Or Baseball, He's A Coach Of Both



By JACK SORDS

The St. Louis Browns will be well trained in tackling, blocking and stiff arming next season, for Manager Billy Southworth has signed Earl "Greasy" Neale, football mentor at the University of Virginia, as coach for 1929. Neale has long been interested in football. Between the gridiron and the baseball field he has managed to keep himself busy most of the year.

Neale's most recent baseball job was as manager of the Clarksburg club of the Middle Atlantic league. This he had to cut short in order that he might pick up his duties as a college football coach. He is best known to baseball as a member of the Cincinnati Reds, with which team he starred in the outfield for six years. From Cincinnati he went to the Phillies, but soon returned to the Reds as coach and scout.

Admit Epworth To Bowling League

At a meeting of the representatives of the church bowling league, which took place Tuesday at noon in the Y. M. C. A., the Temple Israel team was suspended from the league and the Epworth M. E. team named to take their place.

The Epworth team will resume the schedule of the Temple team throughout the remainder of the bowling season at the local Y.

It was also decided at this meeting of the representatives that any church team which had not appeared on the scene of the game prior to 8:30 with at least three men would automatically forfeit the tilt to the opposition.

Start Wrangle Over Referee

Referee For Sharkey-Stribling Bout In Florida Causes Controversy

NEUTRAL MAN TO BE SELECTED

By SID MERCER
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The ascendency of boxing commissions over the crude methods of promotion that held professional fighting in disrepute for many years has practically eliminated one of the most prolific sources of argument that preceeded every big match of bygone days.

We refer to the old customs of bitter quarreling over the selection of referees and the reason we refer to it now is that a controversy is looming up over the third man in the ring with Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling at Miami Beach on February 27.

Stribling is a Southerner and the clans will gather from every point below the Mason and Dixon line to root for him. The South has never produced a heavyweight champion, Stribling is championship timber. The late Tex Rickard only recently proclaimed him the best of the contenders.

The battle of Miami Beach, therefore, is looming up as a friendly civil war. On the northern side we have Jack Sharkey of Boston, once the hotbed of the abolitionists. The new South has almost forgotten the old feuds, but is as prideful as ever.

One of the conditions stressed by Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, before he consented to the match was that his fighter be fully protected against favoritism and that great care should be exercised in the selection of a referee.

Jack Dempsey, who sat in with Buckley and William F. Carey at the Boston conference last week, assured Buckley that the referee would be experienced and distinctly neutral.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

MacDonald Smith and George Von Elm are deadlocked for the lead in the qualifying round of the Pasadena open golf title, worth $4000. They turned in a card of 69, two strokes under par for the first 18 holes.

Bill Carey, successor to Tex Rickard at Madison Square Garden, New York, has departed for Miami Beach where the Stribling-Sharkey match is to be held. Stribling signed for the bout yesterday and Jack Dempsey has intimated that he will appear against the survivor.

Pie Williams, assistant director of athletics at the University of Pittsburgh has resigned to accept a position outside the college ranks. The athletic council passed a resolution thanking Pie for his work during the past two years.

Henry Firpo, Louisville and Young Sailor will clash in a ten round bout at McKeesport, Thursday night. Young Gizzy and Ken Hargreaves will clash in the other ten round bout of a show which will be in the nature of a double windup.

Emmett Rocco the Tarzan of the Connoquesnessing is rounding into fine fettle for his big shot with Knute Hansen at Madison Square Garden, New York, January 28. George Perotta has been training for five weeks with Rocco and is like Rocco in great shape.

Police Officer Bags Red Fox

Carl W. Wallace is not only the latest member of the city police force but he is also a hunter of considerable ability and will add to the reputition of the department along those lines from time to time.

Tuesday while in the vicinity of Covert's Station west of this city, he shot and killed a red fox the only one so far as can be remembered that has been killed in this district this year at least as far as has been reported.

The pelt of the animal is of an exceptionally fine quality and Officer Wallace will have it cured and made into a fur neckpiece.

He used a shotgun in bringing down the animal.

SUSPICIOUS PERSON.

Harold Taylor of 312 East Division street reported to the police that there was a suspicious looking person hanging around the vicinity of his home last night and asked that officers be sent there at once. Officers Kennedy, Letera and McKee were detailed and after a most thorough investigation of the district stated that it was impossible to find any person answering the description of the man wanted.

Tri-State Clash Friday Evening

Westminster Meets Geneva At Beaver Falls In Important Game

LEADERSHIP OF LEAGUE AT STAKE

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 16.—The Tri-state conference basketball race takes on considerable importance Friday night at Beaver Falls when Coach John Lawther's Westminster college passers meet the league-leading Geneva college five.

Geneva's victory over Waynesburg Monday night and the previous victory over Thiel gives the Covenanters two victories and no defeats in conference competition. If the Gold and White wins on Friday night, and there are many who claim they will, then the Beaver Falls boys will be sitting high in the conference with three victories and no defeats. All other conference clubs but Westminster and Geneva have lost games. Should the United Presbyterians win on Friday, it would give Lawther's crew a safe place until January 29 when Thiel is met at Greenville.

Lawther plans to carry the first 14 men on his squad to Beaver Falls for the Friday night game. This group will include six regulars from last year's team, five freshmen, and three subs who have seen more or less service. It is hoped that John Witherspoon, Ben Avon flash, will be in shape for action.

The Geneva team saw the U. P. outfit in action against Duquesne here last Friday night, so they will be set to stop the Westminster offense. On the other hand, it is thought that the Blue and White will play better ball against the Covenanters. If they do not, the Beaver Falls lads will duplicate last year's trick and defeat Lawther's crew.

Mt. Jackson Vs. East Brook High

Mt. Jackson High School will play the East Brook High School basketball team at the East Brook school gymnasium on Friday evening, January 18 at 8 o'clock, it is announced.

Preceding the regular game, the girls' teams of both schools will meet for an engagement.

Chrysler's New Style is Based on Authentic Canons of Classic Beauty Approved Through the Centuries

Chrysler engineering has achieved something never done before in motor car design.

It has searched out authentic forms of beauty which have come down the centuries unsurpassed and unchallenged and has translated them in terms of motor car beauty and motor car utility.

The lengths to which Chrysler designers have gone in this patient pursuit of beauty will doubtless prove a revelation to those who have probably accepted Chrysler symmetry and charm as fortunate but more or less accidental conceptions.

For, Chrysler has left nothing to chance.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Though most of the active industrial stocks opened at lower prices this morning, a good rally extended through the whole list before the end of the first hour, restoring about half of yesterday's losses and driving up prices of the favorites 1-3 points above Tuesday's close.

There was a lively scramble for Briggs, Studebaker, Loew's, Columbia Graphophone, General Electric, United States Steel, and other industrial favorites, particularly the stocks that have been showing off to good advantage in the last week or two.

U. S. Steel climbed back confidently to 167¾, up 2¼ points from Tuesday's close. Briggs was a favorite around 89, up 1¾. Kreuger and Toll, Continental Baking and other new comer specialties resumed the forward move which was interrupted by yesterday's sharp reaction and everything appeared to be again going merrily for the bulls.

As was expected, the 9 per cent money rate attracted a good deal of outside money and 8 per cent. was posted as the renewal rate today.

Hess Speaks At Kiwanis Session

Tells Why He Is Enthusiastic About Kiwanis Organization

C. W. Herman Hess of New Castle delivered the principal address at the regular weekly meeting of the New Castle Kiwanis club at the Elks club today. He spoke on "Kiwanis—Her Place in the Sun."

"I think a lot of the Kiwanis organization, nationally and locally," Hess said. "And my reasons for doing so are many. First, Kiwanis has lofty ideals. Her members know the appreciation of values. Two, for her noble precepts. All of her members are true to Kiwanis. They are willing to give and forgive for the praise of Kiwanis. Three, for the opportunity that Kiwanis affords in vocational guidance and placement. And last, I think much of the organization because her members are interested in civic undertakings.

"Her members want to be boosters, or at least they are becoming to be. We are throwing away our hammers and making greater efforts to carry out the principles of Kiwanis."

Mr. Hess went on to give definite examples of why he believes in the great organization, which he said was founded in the great city of Detroit about 14 years ago. She will observe the 14th anniversary of her existence on January 21.

Summing up his address, Hess said that Kiwanians have built well upon a firm foundation, upon a superstructure that will last for years. "Because the Kiwanians in the past have been true to her ideals, so they will be in the future and the Kiwanis will grow," he concluded.

Another feature of the program today was the humorous musical performance that Bert Galbraith and his daughter, Katherine, gave. Mr. Galbraith and his daughter are members of the Galbraith Brothers company and are here in connection with work being carried on at the Epworth M. E. church. They were secured through the courtesy of the Rev. S. L. Maxwell, the pastor, John W. Krisko, memory expert, also entertained the members at the close of Mr. Hess' speech.

ANCIENT CROSS ERECTED

One hundred years after its discovery, a Celtic cross more than 1,000 years old was recently erected during a ceremony held recently in St. Patrick's church, Ballmena, Ireland. The cross was unearthed in 1827 while a ditch was being dug in the Kirconriola church yard, near Ballymena, and placed in the tower of the church, where it remained until 1879, when the church was burned. It was lost until recently, and was found broken in three pieces in the cellar of Ballymena Castle. The cross is of rough, hard limestone, 22 inches long and about three inches thick. The inscription was carved early in the tenth century.

NEW CASTLE DRY GOODS CO.

Old Newspaper Tells Of Lincoln's Assassination

Battered and soiled, worn and torn, and dirty from the hands of the many who read it perhaps with eager eye and quick breath, an old copy of the New York Herald, dated April 15, 1865, was brought to the office of the News Tuesday by Joseph Ginger of 21 East Big Run street.

The copy is one that was rushed off the press of the Herald Tribune the next morning following the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln.

It is a six column four page sheet, void of glaring and blaring headlines and the front is ribbed in black lines of mourning. There is an editorial written by the famed James Gordon Bennet, editor of the paper, summing up the assassination and also the Seward affair.

The front page is Lincoln this, Lincoln that, and Lincoln everything. A large cut of Lincoln is found at the top of the front page and the entire sheet is practically filled with various stories of the assassination, giving details of the affair.

Along with the news pertaining to Lincoln on the front page is a story concerning Jeff Davis as well as a short church notice down at the corner of the outside column.

The story given concerning the assassination is practically the same version as is presented in the modern day school histories. The story was told with every detail included.

The paper in the possession of Mr. Ginger has all of the four pages, the first devoted to Lincoln news, the interior to editorials and a page and a half patent medicine display advertisement, and the fourth or back page printed current news. Two of the columns were headed with the names of Grant and Sherman while news from the capitol was listed under a column designated as Washington.

This back page tells of the conditions of the day and is perhaps as important and significant as the first page which devotes its space to the assassination.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Perhaps this weather is no surprise to you by this time but after being away for a couple of days and getting back to it, it looked odd to see so much snow. East of the Allegheny mountains there was none yesterday, at least until noon when we left Harrisburg.

The Capitol City looked as though it were autumn. The sun was shining, the air was not cold, and one could go without his overcoat. At Tyrone there was a little snow, and at Altoona considerably more. Greensburg showed signs of a heavy snow storm and Pittsburgh was piled high.

There has been some cold weather down east however. The Susquehanna River is a picture especially when the sun hits it. As you may know, the Susquehanna is somewhat like Powder River in Montana, "a mile wide and an inch deep." Just sort of spreads itself all over the outdoors and rambles along lazily.

It is frozen in a jagged, crooked formation and all that expanse of ice seems like a frozen boulevard stretching for miles west from Harrisburg.

Gradually the preliminary gestures of the General Assembly are being worked off and by next Monday night the members will be ready for the real work of the session. The standing committees have been approved, the appointments have been made, the usual flock of resolutions have been passed and the hopper is now working, grinding out the grist of bills that have been presented.

As usual there is a bill covering almost every phase of human endeaver. Tax raisers and tax reducers, prohibitory bills and liberalizing bills, road bills and appropriation bills, laws, laws, laws, most of which will not be passed, and many of which are put in just that somebody may get a piece of legislation before the session.

One of the first bills reported out of the Senate committees was a Lawrence County bill presented by Senator George T. Weingartner, a validating bill for bond issues passed at previous elections. This will be on second reading next Monday night, third reading and final passage on Tuesday morning and should be passed and signed inside of three weeks.

The lobbyists are beginning to gather. Lobbyists for both sides of every question raised. So many of them that they really should be given badges so they won't lobby each other, or at least so the members can recognize them at sight.

Capitol Hill is the chief industry of Harrisburg and when the session is no, the city of Harrisburg is a busy place. The grounds surrounding the capitol look like parade grounds with the long lines of people going up and leaving.

Hope you are not forgetting the National Commander's dinner of the American Legion on February 12th. A real party with the admission not beginning to indicate the merit of it. You really should be there.

CARS IN COLLISION.

Joseph Edgar Jones, Jr., of Sharon, reported to the police yesterday that he was driving west on Grant street and making a left hand turn into the Penn State Auto Service station when the car of Walter E. Sheets, Edenburg, going east on West State street hit and damaged his machine.

Police Dog Saves Family From Fire

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 16—"Greyboy," a police dog, owned by Clifford Beegle, vice president of the Union Drawn Steel company, will have a nice place to sleep in the Beegle home as long as he lives.

Permitted to sleep in the house Monday night because of the extremely cold weather, the dog aroused the family when fire broke out in the Beegle home in Patterson Heights and credit is given him for saving the lives of the family.

"Greyboy" worked upon the door of the Beegle bedroom and aroused them from sleep. They found the living room on fire, starting from sparks from the open log fire. The Patterson Heights fire department extinguished the flames, which had damaged furnishings and the floor.
